On ITT Memo

Congressman Backs Up Anderson Charge

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rep. Bob Wilson has said the memo published by columnist Jack Anderson in the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. controversy was written by lobbyist Dita Beard under pressure from an ITT executive who wanted to get her in trouble, the Baltimore Sun said today.

Mrs. Beard has denied under oath that she wrote the Anderson-published memo which linked an ITT contribution to the Republican National Convention with a settlement in an antitrust case that ITT had pending with the Justice Department.

The Sun said that in an interview March 3 Wilson attributed the memo in Anderson's column to Mrs. Beard and made other statements that conflict with testimony ITT officials have given to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The Sun said its story was based on a 45-minute tape-recorded interview that the California Republican congressman had in his San Diego office with Robert E. Cox, a reporter for the San Diego Union. After the Sun's story appeared in print, claiming that contents of the interview had not previously been made public, the San Diego newspaper published a story today containing material that it said was drawn from the interview.

Efforts to reach Wilson, who was instrumental in the Republicans' decision to hold their convention in his home city this August, were not successful, the Sun reported.

The Senate Judiciary Committee has been investigating charges concerning the memo as part of its examination into President Nixon's nomination of Richard Kleindienst to be attorney general. It has additional deliberations scheduled today into whether Kleindienst acted improperly in the ITT case while he was deputy attorney general.

The Baltimore Sun said Wilson claimed that William R. Merriam, Mrs. Beard's boss in the ITT office, instructed her to write a memo linking the antitrust settlement with an ITT pledge to underwrite $400,000 of San Diego's cash bid to get the Republican convention.

"He said that Mrs. Beard was too smart to volunteer to put such a sensitive matter down in writing but that Mr. Merriam insisted," the Sun said in recounting Wilson's remarks. "According to the congressman, Mr. Merriam was confused about the nature of the ITT convention pledge and ordered her to 'write it down'."

Quoting Wilson directly on a conversation he said he had with Mrs. Beard, the Sun continued: "So she hand-carried it, she said, to Merriam and at the end it says, 'Please tear this up, huh?' So there it is—Jack Anderson had the original, not just a copy but the original."

Merriam, in a sworn statement to the Senate Judiciary Committee, said of the memo as published by Anderson with a date of June 25, 1971: "I did not receive this alleged memorandum from Mrs. Beard on June 25, 1971, or at any other time."

Unleash Air Assault

SAIGON (AP) — The United States unleashed today the heaviest air attack on North Vietnam since the bombing halt in 1968, trying to cut off the base of the growing North Vietnamese offensive in South Vietnam.

On ground fronts, North and South Vietnamese battled for a district town 75 miles north of Saigon. The enemy attack rolled into its eighth day on the northern front. Fighting continued in the central highlands.

U.S. sources estimated 400 planes had attacked targets in North Vietnam, half from 7th Fleet carriers and half from bases in South Vietnam and Thailand. The sources said the attacks were ordered by President Nixon.

Three carriers were committed to the air campaign. Five destroyers offshore added their 5-inch guns to the bombardment.

Targets were anti-aircraft batteries and radar stations, surface-to-air missiles, long-range artillery that has been firing across the demilitarized zone, and storage areas.

The North Vietnamese radio said 10 U.S. jets were shot down over North Vietnam during the day. The U.S. Command declined to say whether any planes were lost.

Sources said all the strikes were south of the 20th parallel, which is 200 miles north of the demilitarized zone dividing the two Vietnams.

Planes also attacked the North Vietnamese on the northern front of South Vietnam and adjacent areas in Laos.

North of Saigon, elements of three North Vietnamese divisions were reported to have poured across the Cambodian border and surrounded the district town of Loc Ninh, 75 miles north of Saigon and five miles from the frontier.

Highway 13 between Loc Ninh and An Loc, the provincial capital of Binh Long Province 15 miles to the south, was reported unsafe. An Loc was threatened from the north, east and west, field reports said. The highway was reported open from An Loc to Saigon but traffic was restricted.

South Vietnamese troops of the 5th Division were encountering heavy resistance outside Loc Ninh. One officer in the field said casualties on both sides were heavy.

Vietnamese sources said Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, commander of the 3rd military region, met with Gen. Creighton W. Abrams to request more American air support.

Informed sources said the only U.S. air support available is a squadron of American A37s, which are small subsonic fighter-bombers, and some helicopter gunships.

The South Vietnamese planes are all in the north and the highlands, and the bulk of the U.S. jets and helicopter gunships also were operating above and below the DMZ.

The U.S. Command said the attacks on North Vietnam were "in response to the invasion of the Republic of South Vietnam by North Vietnamese forces who cross the demilitarized zone." It added that they were ordered "to help protect the lives of diminishing U.S. forces."

Tasaday Homesite Off Limits

MANILA (AP) — President Ferdinand E. Marcos declared the newly discovered homesite of the cave-dwelling Tasaday Tribe off limits to outsiders today, reserving the area in the southern Philippines for the gentle Stone Age people.

At a ceremony at the presidential palace, Marcos said he was reserving a 24,700-acre area in Cotabato Province in the southern Philippines island of Mindanao for the Neolithic Tasadays and another more advanced tribe living in the general area, the Manobo Blit.

He said another 23,000 acres might be set aside later following surveys to determine the exact extent of the Tasaday area.

Marcos said he planned next week to

Fourth Distribution For Education Aid

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — A bill to give public schools a fourth distribution of state aid on May 31 passed the Missouri Senate unanimously today. The vote sending it to the governor was 33-0.

The bill was recommended by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes to clear the way for full payment of the $304 million in state aid allotted for this school year.

The fourth distribution is expected to amount to $67.7 million. The date was changed from May 15 to May 31 to give time for collection of additional revenue to make the allocation.

Passed and sent back to the House, 25-6, was a bill to let judges release accused persons on their own recognizance instead of forcing them to stay in jail for lack of bail bond money. The judge would have the discretion to set certain conditions of the release.

Sen. John Schneider, D-Florissant, handling the bill in the Senate for its author, Rep. Robert Brantom, D-Greendale, said it would improve the system of justice and save money for counties because they wouldn't have to feed as many prisoners.

Sen. William B. Waters, D-Liberty, called the bill highly meritorious. He said it had the approval of judges in his area because the Clay County jail is bulging with prisoners who don't have bail money.

He charged professional bondsmen have been able to defeat such legislation for years.

Also headed for the House is a so-called compromise bill to liberalize unemployment compensation benefits.

At Davis Trial

Testimony Recalls Shootout

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A jammed courtroom at the Angela Davis trial listened engrossed as a bullet-crippled prosecutor told of fatally shooting three abductors and wounding a fourth after a judge was slain in the Marin County Civic Center shootout of Aug. 7, 1970.

His voice breaking at times, Asst. Dist. Atty. Gary W. Thomas of Marin County relied on Wednesday the violence in which Superior Court Judge Harold Haley and three others were killed—and Thomas was shot in the spine and paralyzed from the waist down.

Miss Davis, a 28-year-old black Communist charged with murder, kidnaping and conspiracy in the shootout, listened intently to Thomas' testimony.

She is accused of furnishing four guns and plotting with 17-year-old Jonathan Jackson to engineer the abortive escape try of three convicts which ended in the shootout.

The state contends she was driven by passion to free Jonathan's older brother, George Jackson, one of the three black men then awaiting trial on charges of murdering a white Soledad Prison guard. Jackson was later killed in what authorities said was an escape attempt from San Quentin Prison.

In his first public account, Thomas recreated the minutes after Jonathan Jackson and three armed black convicts led him, Haley and three women jurors to a van in the Civic Center parking lot.

Thomas said the van took off slowly with Jackson at the wheel and convict James McClain on the passenger side. Thomas said he was sitting behind McClain, his 6-foot-2 frame cramped, and Haley was, directly behind him.

Under questioning by prosecutor Albert Harris Jr., Thomas described the events that led to the deaths of Haley, McClain, Jackson and convict William Christmas, and to the wounding of another convict, Ruchell Magee, and his own crippling injury.

"Suddenly," Thomas said, "the van stopped. I saw Jonathan Jackson. He had a revolver in his hand and put his right hand outside the driver's window. Then I heard a shot. Then, I heard—I can't say whether it was one or two shots."

Thomas said the shots fired "were not from inside" the van.

Thomas said that after the shots were fired he noticed Jackson pulling his hand back inside the window, looking at it and noting blood. Thomas went on: "When I saw that I immediately turned and looked at Judge Haley. I saw his face. He was alive. An instant later I saw the right side of his face slowly pulling away from his skull."

Thomas said there had been a sawed-off shotgun held under the judge's chin by Ruchell Magee.

Leonard Heisterberg, Cole Camp, defeated two other Benton County residents for a seat on the State Fair Community College board of trustees, according to unofficial returns released Thursday by Fred Davis, SFCC president.

Heisterberg collected his largest block of votes in Benton County. His unofficial totals give him 1,044 votes compared to the 986 received by Robert Boring and Edmond Bryant's 235. Boring is from Warsaw and Bryant lives in Cole Camp.

Heisterberg will fill the slot vacated by Dr. E. L. Rhodes, Warsaw, who did not file for re-election.

Dr. Donald Proctor was elected to represent Sedalia on the board. He ran unopposed.

The biggest totals realized by Heisterberg came from Benton County School District R-1 in Cole Camp, which gave him 451 votes, and Benton County R-II in Lincoln, where he gained 276.

Boring dominated in only one Benton County school district, R-IX in Warsaw, where he received 321.

The break-down of the total votes follows, with Pettis County school districts listed first.

Big Elderly Income Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee has taken a major step in its drive to provide an adequate income for the nation's elderly.

The committee voted 11 to 0 Wednesday to liberalize payments to aged, blind and disabled welfare recipients, the so-called "adult categories."

The provision would bring an estimated four million welfare recipients, two-thirds of them elderly, above the poverty level established by the government.

It also would mean substantially higher income for another 2.4 million welfare recipients who would remain below the poverty level.

In addition, the committee's proposal would more than double the number of welfare recipients in the adult categories, from 3.2 million to 7.4 million.

The Committee would raise the federal costs of the adult welfare program to $5.7 billion, compared with $2.2 billion at present.

The House has approved an increase to $4.1 billion.

Both the Senate and House versions would establish a uniform national level of payments, with the costs paid entirely by the federal government. Under current law, the costs are shared by the federal government and the states with payments varying widely between states.

The average cash payments to aged welfare recipients is $76.39 per month, ranging from $49 in South Carolina to $168 in New Hampshire.

The Senate committee's proposal would guarantee each recipient $130 per month. In addition, each recipient would be allowed up to $50 per month in Social Security benefits and $50 per month in earned income without losing any welfare benefits.

Fifty per cent of any earnings above $50 would be subtracted from the welfare payment, but officials say few aged welfare recipients have any earnings.

The Committee voted last week to increase minimum Social Security payments for persons with many years of work under the system.

Action is expected later on an across-the-board boost for all Social Security beneficiaries.

Report Wild Chase

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Police said a wild, high-speed chase resulted when they sought to stop a car for speeding early today.

Officers said the driver ran three police road blocks, hit a city police patrol car, and fled the city at speeds of up to 100 miles an hour.

Greene County sheriff's units joined the chase and the car was finally halted about 15 miles outside the city limits.

Officers identified the driver as Vivian Lavern Green, 22, of Springfield. They said she was charged with driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident.

Tells of Benefits

Sen. Russell Long, D-La., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee talked to newsmen Wednesday about the committee's vote to liberalize welfare payments to the aged, disabled and blind in a manner which will take four million of them — two-thirds of the national total — out of poverty. He also said the group is almost certain to vote for an across-the-board increase in social security payments of at least 10 per cent. (UPI)

Delinquent Tactic By Schaffner

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Revenue Director James E. Schaffner is taking a new tack in trying to collect delinquent income taxes.

Letters went out Wednesday to 81 "hard core" delinquents over the signature of Byron Kinder, Cole County prosecuting attorney, warning them they will face criminal charges unless they pay up.

Schaffner said the delinquents have ignored registered letters from the department that they owe about $48,000 on their 1970 income taxes.

Violation of the law is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine up to $1,000, a year in jail, plus a 25 per cent penalty and 6 per cent interest.

Heretofore delinquent tax accounts have been turned over to the attorney general for collection. Schaffner said the new approach of prosecution on criminal charges would serve as a good spur to make the delinquents pay up.

Shooting Victim Identity Revealed

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — The body of a man shot to death in Kansas City, Kan., has been identified from FBI records as Alonzo Morton Jr., 26.

"We can't give a permanent address yet but they (the FBI) think he's from Los Angeles," said Lt. Robert Becker, Metro Squad news officer, Wednesday. Morton was shot Tuesday night.

Becker said the squad of 20 officers are trying to establish a motive for the slaying, which they said had the aspects of a gangland killing. Police said Morton had been shot with a .38 caliber revolver.

Detectives said they believe Morton's body was thrown from a car after he had been shot somewhere else. The body was found on an unpaved road in the city's North End.

Tax Issue's Defeat Ends Special Education Plans

Recommendations from two specialists to expand special education programs for the educable mentally retarded in Sedalia School District 200 were shelved following the failure Tuesday of a proposed school tax levy increase.

On March 28 a letter went to school board members in which Dr. T. J. Norris, superintendent of schools, said, "If the tax increase passes, I believe consideration should be given to include these recommendations in our budget."

A study of the special education program here was conducted by Roger Garlich, director of the Children's Therapy Center, and George Marsh, special education coordinator for the Center.

In a summary of their findings, they urged that the school board consider three additional classes for the mentally retarded; one additional class for children with learning disabilities; and one new class for the emotionally disturbed.

Their summary said that the additional personnel required for these additions, and their salaries, would break down as follows: one learning disabilities teacher, $6,000; three teachers for the mentally retarded, $3,500 each; and one teacher for the emotionally disturbed class, $3,500.

They also recommended the board hire a teacher to replace the special educator coordinator, who would then be relieved of classroom responsibility, and a teacher at the senior high level for the mentally retarded class.

Garlich and Marsh conducted their study from Sept. 1, 1971, to Feb. 16, 1972. During that time, they said, 144 children were referred to the Child Study Service, and 91 of these were of school age. They said that children 8, 9 and 11 years old comprised the largest group.

"Recent enrollment of children in the elementary schools totals 2,923 youngsters," their report said. "Using this as a figure which should remain stable, another 400 kindergarten children can be anticipated. There, enrollment in grades K (kindergarten) through 7 will be approximately 3,323 in the fall of 1972. The enrollment of Smith-Cotton is currently 2,032. An enrollment of 5,300 children, K through 12, can be expected. The numerous studies of epidemiology in school

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — Police said an automobile was destroyed by fire Wednesday night in the garage of James D. Pirtle, who was recently appointed to the East Side Levee District.

Pirtle, 29, said he had received numerous threatening telephone calls in connection with Levee District activities. He was appointed by Illinois Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie to replace a trustee who was convicted for stealing district funds.

Pirtle, a businessman, was not at home at the time of the fire. Recently the board dismissed 20 patronage employees, including some top district officers. Other board members said they too have received threatening calls.

DEATH NOTICES

William H. Bond

William H. Bond, 924 South Carr, died at his home at 9:50 p.m. Wednesday. He had been in failing health for several years.

He was born at West Plains, Mo., son of the late John C. and Mary Riggs Bond. On Oct. 19, 1930, he married Miss Helen E. Martin.

He came to Sedalia when he was a young man and was employed at the M.K.T. and the Missouri-Pacific Shops as a coach builder until his retirement in 1969.

Open House
Date Set By Department

The Sedalia Water Board voted Wednesday evening to set aside May 21 as the date for the open house of the water department's plant on Flat Creek.

Herb Taylor, general manager of the water department, said Congressman William Randall had notified him he would be in Kansas City May 20 and would be able to attend the open house the following day.

The board announced invitations to the open house will be sent to Senators Stuart Symington and Thomas Eagleton and Gov. Warren Hearnes. Other dignitaries will also be invited, including Mayor Jerry Jones and former mayors Julian Bagby and Ralph Walker.

It was also announced the water department will be awarded a safety citation at the American Water Works Association (AWWA) Convention. L. C. Heuerman will accept the award for the department and receive the water works operators award for himself.

The local department is also planning to host the Mid-west sewage conference April 20. The conference will convene at 8 p.m. at Convention Hall.

Taylor presented a letter from D. P. Proudfoot, president of Black and Veatch, consulting engineers, urging the local utility to become a member of AWWA. At present Taylor and Heuerman are members of the organization. Taylor said the only benefit he could see to joining the group would be the chance to obtain the AWWA book of standards for water department use. The board voted to delay action on the measure until they could study it more thoroughly.

Bill Push
Promised
By Gravel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Gravel plans to force a Senate vote on a declaration of war against North Vietnam. The Alaska Democrat first indicated he would make his move today, but aides said the senator had to leave town and would bring up the issue next week in an amendment to the bill to restrict the President's war powers.

The bill would limit the president to emergency use of the armed forces for 30 days unless Congress authorized continued hostilities. But, as currently written, it would not apply to Vietnam.

Gravel proposed amendments Wednesday to make the bill applicable to "present hostilities" and to formally declare war on North Vietnam.

Gravel, a leading Senate dove, said he would vote against the second amendment.

He said he favors the first amendment, however, which would require an end to U.S. participation in the Vietnam fighting within 15 days in the unlikely event that the provision became law.

The bill is described by its 26 sponsors as an attempt to restore to Congress its constitutional prerogative to initiate war.

The bill is opposed by the Nixon administration. The administration says the nation has been involved in more than 180 military engagements abroad with only five declarations of war by Congress and that the bill thus would go against historical precedent.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., leading Senate opponent, calls the bill "unrealistic, unwise, and unconstitutional."

The Senate adopted three amendments Wednesday that were offered by the sponsors of the bill to dispel what they called "red herring" arguments against it.

One of the amendments would permit troops committed by the president to continue fighting beyond the 30-day deadline for congressional authorization if the president certified that there was "unavoidable military necessity" to protect troops while effecting "prompt disengagement."

The proviso also could be triggered if Congress were physically unable to meet during the 30 days because of attack on the United States.

A second amendment approved Wednesday would specifically authorize U.S. participation in allied commands already authorized by treaty.

Aldermen, Board

Melvin Foster was re-elected to serve on the R-VIII school board, receiving 154 votes. Lee Gatschet was also voted to board membership with 152 tallies. Mrs. Dixie Lee Zachgo trailed with 26 votes. Foster's term had expired, along with that of Cletus Tucker, who declined to run for reelection.

Jury Snarl
In Berrigan
Proceedings

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The government's attempt to prove that antiwar priest Philip Berrigan and six others formed a conspiracy that included a plot to kidnap presidential aide Henry A. Kissinger has resulted in a deadlocked jury.

The jury found Berrigan and a nun who worked with him guilty on seven counts involving letters smuggled in and out of prison, but failed to agree on the 1,500-word conspiracy count that was the key element in the federal government's case.

That count charged that the seven "did unlawfully, wilfully and knowingly combine" to kidnap Kissinger, blow up heating tunnels under federal buildings in Washington and vandalize draft board offices.

Berrigan remains in prison on other charges while bail has been continued for the remaining defendants until the government decides whether to seek a new trial.

Chief prosecutor William Lynch declined to speculate on what further action might be taken, although before the jury came in he had said, "We would never drop these charges."

The U. S. District Court jury of nine women and three men added six guilty verdicts Wednesday to the one it had returned Sunday, but said it could not agree on the other three counts in the 10-count indictment.

Left unresolved were the general conspiracy charge involving all seven defendants and two other charges that said two letters involved in the case contained kidnap threats which were mailed in violation of U.S. postal regulations.

In addition to the letter-smuggling conviction against him Sunday, Berrigan was found guilty Wednesday of attempting to smuggle three other letters out of the federal prison in nearby Lewisburg, where he was confined in 1970 for destroying draft board files.

Sister Elizabeth McAlister, 32, an art history teacher from New York City, was convicted of attempting to smuggle three letters in to Berrigan.

Berrigan and Sister Elizabeth face maximum sentences of 10 years for each letter-smuggling count.

Judge R. Dixon Herman set no date for sentencing, but tentatively agreed on May 2 as the date for a hearing on a defense contention that the letter-smuggling prosecution was discriminatory.

Herman, who pressed for a full verdict despite defense charges of "prejudice and coercion," told the jurors that there was nothing shameful about their deadlock. They deliberated the case for 59 hours over seven days.

The split verdict was hailed as "something of a victory" by the defense, while prosecutor Lynch cheerlessly commented, "Seven out of 10 is pretty good."

None of the jurors would comment on the case.

Says Dogs, Children Are Alike

By PEACE MOFFAT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Would you believe a dog psychologist? Who once prescribed a box turtle to fulfill a poodle's maternal instincts—

Who says having a dog is like having a child—

But who takes his work so seriously that he has written a book called "Understanding Your Dog."

"The purpose of the book is to show an animal is an individual," explained Dr. Michael W. Fox, associate professor of psychology at Washington University and associate director for research at the St. Louis zoo. "A dog is easy to read. He's very honest about expressing himself, but people often presume to know too much. And any animal or person in a close relationship can lose his separate identity."

Fox told on a recent visit here, of a case where a young couple owned a dog and the dog wouldn't let the husband into the bedroom. And in his book, he wrote about a dachshund who had a catatonic fit whenever the couple who owned him had a fight.

Fox says dogs even develop like young children in many ways, and that their body language is similar to humans. He also says dogs, like humans, have different abilities to tolerate closeness.

Dogs develop through several stages, Fox points out, adding that the best time to get a puppy is when he is between six and eight weeks old. "Don't bother with a puppy older than 10 weeks, unless he's been raised with a lot of people around," he advises.

Before buying a dog Fox says one should see how he interacts with other puppies. "Beware of the most outgoing one," he warns, "because he might be the most aggressive. Take the puppy out of the pen and put him in a completely strange place—does he cower, or does he get up and investigate? Take along an old scarf or a glove, and after he's investigated it, see if he'll have a tug of war."

Fox says there is no point in discipline training for a puppy at five or six weeks, because he won't remember it, but he says that's a good time for tender, loving care and seeing that the puppy has a lot of different experiences, so his environment will be enriched.

At eight weeks, there is a sensitive fear period, Fox says, and at that time the dog owner should avoid any undue trauma for his puppy, such as taking him to the vet for the first time.

Dog Psychologist

Dr. Michael W. Fox, has a veterinary degree and a doctorate in psychology, both of which he uses in his work with dogs. He's shown here with a friend, Squeaker, a miniature schnauzer. (AP)

By 12 weeks, Fox says a dog is emotionally bonded to his owner, so discipline training then is not likely to break his spirit or attachment.

Fox, who holds a veterinary degree and a doctorate in psychology from London University, has several breed recommendations for people in different situations. For instance, for a family with children in a house, he recommends a golden retriever; for a young couple, any of the terriers; for an apartment couple, a schnauzer, Yorkshire terrier or poodle; for an older couple, a Yorkshire terrier, Pekinese or pug.

"But," Dr. Fox says, "you used to be able to tell about the temperament of a dog from the breed. Now you can't. That's because there is less quality control in breeding, which is rather tragic. For example, in some cases, dogs are selected for their small size—or the shape of their legs, which doesn't help their behavior."

Fox calls dog breeders who get together and decide to change the standards of a breed "a bunch of cranks. People have a responsibility not to change standards without knowing the result," he says. "But," he adds, "there's an emphasis now that the prize dogs should have some kind of test before being named the best in the breed. That way you would know you weren't giving a prize to a zombie."

Tape Reduces Glare On Wiper Blades

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Homemaking is not exactly my line but I did notice the letter from Mary K. who complained about being blinded by the reflective glare of the sun from the chrome-plated wiper arms and blades on her car. If she will use black electrical tape or an oil-based flat black enamel on these shiny parts she will no longer be bothered by this.

Also, to cure reflected glare from the flat surfaces of the dash against the windshield, cut a piece of velvet or similar dull fabric the proper shape and size and glue in place. Do not forget to cut holes for anything that might be on it. — JOHN M.

DEAR JOHN — Think what you have been missing by thinking this column is only for homemakers — it is a family column and we welcome (and get) letters from the men and teen-agers as well as the ladies. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I just washed our 11-year-old black car but it looked no better than before I started as I did not have time to wax it. While I was washing the windows with vinegar water, I took a big swipe across the trunk of the car and dried it with the newspaper I had been using to dry the windows. Wow! The result looked like a wax job. It took only minutes to go over that big old black job and it looked like the results of a morning of work. — MRS. B. R.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — Spring cleaning time is about here so I would like to know the best way of cleaning painted walls and stucco ceilings. I have tried many ways but none satisfies me. — MRS. K. J. U.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve has to do with borrowing and returning. People are so quick to borrow but then never return the item until it is asked for. This often requires making up a lie as a reason to ask for its return. The biggest problem is when you ask for something back and the borrower is offended and gets mad at you. When people borrow, what they borrow should be returned as soon as they are finished with it. — JANICE

The group, who plans to meet once a month, also selected committees for publicity, ways and means, constitution and by-laws and telephone calling.

Name Corrected

It was incorrectly reported to The Sedalia Democrat-Capital that the winner of a "Polly Dollar" Newspaper Enterprise Association, was Miss Kathy Harris, Route 1, Miss Kathy Morris, Route 1, was awarded the dollar recently, for a suggestion she submitted to the Polly's Pointers column, which appears daily in The Democrat-Capital.

OFF WITH OIL

The glossy look in make-up is not the same as the shine caused by oily skin. If your skin has a tendency toward oiliness, try to avoid the glossy, shiny make-ups. Keep a supply of lemon saturated cloths for use during the day. And use make-ups with more of a powder base.

Club Notes

Missouri Pacific Women's Club met Monday at the Missouri State Bank. Mrs. W. J. Harrington, program chairman, arranged the annual sale of baked goods and white elephants.

Auctioneers were Mrs. Lloyd Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Floyd Knerl.

President Mrs. William Schutt called the meeting to order, and after the chaplain, Mrs. Frank Kerswell, gave the devotion, 24 members answered roll call, and Mrs. Evelyn McNally was welcomed as a guest.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Martin Moser, Mrs. Mattie Marteny, and Mrs. George Dabner.

Several area students have been selected to attend the annual statewide Sophomore Pilgrimage April 11 in Jefferson City. The Pilgrimage is sponsored by the Missouri Women's Federated Clubs, and promotes better citizenship and provides students with the opportunity of seeing the state government in action.

Approximately 400 Missouri high school sophomores will tour the Capitol, visit the legislature, executive mansion and the state Supreme Court. Six state officials will speak on the responsibilities of their offices at a noon luncheon.

Among those chosen to attend are Dan Slagel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Slagel, 105 Southwest Blvd., Smith-Cotton High School; and Carol Zimmerschild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Zimmerschild, 1100 West Third, Sacred Heart High School, both sponsored by the Cosmopolitan Junior Women's Club.

Vicky Blackburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Blackburn, Sweet Springs, Sweet Springs R-7 High School, is sponsored by the Fortnightly Club; Teri Neitzert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Neitzert, Green Ridge, Green Ridge High School, is being sponsored by the Mutual Improvement Club; and Don Thornton, Whiteman AFB, who is a student at Knob Noster High School, is sponsored by the Knob Noster Progressive Club. Mariaco who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, Walnut Hills, is the current American Field Service exchange student at Smith-Cotton High School.

Students were selected by their schools on the basis of leadership, courage, high standards of honor, service, scholastic achievement, and good citizenship.

Symington Crowns Princess

Anne Wadsworth Symington, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Symington Jr., of St. Louis, was crowned 1972 Cherry Blossom Princess for Missouri by her grandfather, Senator Stuart Symington, at a dinner held April 1 in Washington, D.C. The dinner was given in her honor by the Missouri Society of Washington.

Miss Symington was selected by the Missouri Society to represent her state in the National Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington, D.C., this Tuesday through Saturday.

The Cherry Blossom Festival includes the coronation of a Cherry Blossom Queen at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts on Friday and climaxes with the traditional Cherry Blossom Parade on Saturday along Constitution Avenue.

Offers Suggestion For Moves

Dear Ann Landers: I've read several letters in your column from women who gripe because their husband's jobs make it necessary for them to move around the country. They usually complain that it's bad for the children. I disagree. In fact, it's been very good for our children. I'd like to offer a few suggestions that might help others.

(1) Make the children a part of the project. Discuss the move with them — and always in positive terms. Kids take on attitudes of their parents. If Mom is negative and unhappy, it will rub off on the youngsters. (2) Take the children to the new city for a weekend visit. Learn from the Chamber of Commerce the places of interest. If the visit is fun the kids will view the upcoming move with enthusiasm. (3) Allow the children to complete the semester if possible. This might mean Dad will be commuting for a while, but it's worth it. (4) Keep the inoculation records where you can find them. If they are lost it can be a terrible inconvenience. (5) Treat each new city as if it's the place you're going to spend the rest of your life. Join the P.T.A. Get involved. Give your children the feeling of permanence. They'll adjust better.

We're moving for the fifth time next May and we know we're going to love the new city. Why? Because we've loved every city we've ever lived in. — Abilene, Texas

Dear A.T.: Your last sentence says it all. Thank you.

Dear Ann Landers: What kind of nuttiness is it when a young married woman has such an obsession to be a size 8 that she stuffs herself into sweaters, dresses and coats regardless of how they fit. The only thing she cares about is, "Is it a size 8?"

Last week I bought my daughter a pretty housecoat with a zipper down the front. She tried it on and it fit her perfectly. Then she asked, "What size is it?" I told her I hadn't looked at the size — that I used my eye and decided it would fit her. When she took it off and discovered it was a size 10 she said, "Do you mind if I exchange it for a size 8?" I replied, "It's up to you."

Last night I saw her in the size 8. It fit her like a sausage casing. The zipper was already pulling away at the seams and she could barely sit down. Will you please tell me what is the magic of a size 8? — Unashamed size 14

Dear Mother: Your daughter is laboring under the illusion that if she can squeeze her caboose into a size 8 she'll look like a size 8. Unfortunately, it doesn't work that way. If a garment is too snug, the person who wears it looks fatter, not thinner. Size worshippers can be led astray, too, because some size 8's are smaller than others — depending on the manufacturer.

Dear Ann Landers: I've been looking at your picture in the Salt Lake Tribune for a long time and I just figured out where I know you from. It hit me all of a sudden. My memory took me back to World War Two. You worked as a Bedouin belly dancer under the name of Fat Oola — followed the troops through North Africa and Italy. You weren't fat but the name was a catchy one.

Obviously you snagged a fellow named Landers and your native intelligence has carried you far. Heartiest congratulations. Any girl who can make it from the night club circuit to the newspaper business, I take my hat off to. — W. C. M.

Dear W. C. M.: Keep your hat on. You've got the wrong number.

What's the story on pot, LSD, cocaine, uppers and downers, speed? Can you handle it if you're careful? Send for Ann Landers' new booklet, "Straight Dope On Drugs." For each booklet ordered send a dollar bill, plus a long, self-addressed stamped envelope (16 cents postage) to Ann Landers, Box 3346, Chicago, Illinois 60654.

Brooks Sentence Reduced To Life

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Judge Lewis W. Clymer of the Jackson County Circuit Court has reduced the sentence of Felix L. Brooks, 21, a convicted killer, from death to life in prison.

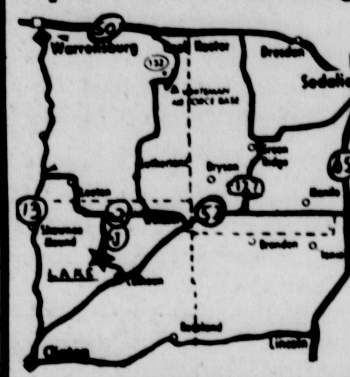

Brooks was convicted Jan. 15 in the slaying of Norman Robert Kennedy, an assistant manager at a service station, May 8, 1971. Kennedy was shot by one of five men robbing the station.

Election Law Will Lift Some Spending Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP) — A broad new election law takes effect Friday, peeling away some of the secrecy that has cloaked campaign contributors and setting limits on how much candidates can spend for television and other advertising.

While the law is the first major election reform in half a century, its disclosure provision has a loophole that has left the way clear for millions of dollars to pour anonymously into the campaign treasuries of presidential candidates, senators and congressmen.

Shortly before the New Hampshire primary, Sen. George S. McGovern made public a list of contributors to his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, and challenged his rivals to do the same. Sens. Edmund S. Muskie and Hubert H. Humphrey and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York followed suit. Sen. Henry Jackson has said he will not name his financial backers. Gov. George Wallace of Alabama has said he will, but he hasn't.

The new law does not cover campaign contributions made prior to its effective date, April 7. There have been published reports that Republican fund raisers, headed by former Secretary of Commerce Maurice

H. Stans, have been contacting party contributors and pointing out that they can remain anonymous by giving now.

Such contributions, to any presidential candidate, can be made through dozens of dummy Washington committees which, through a loophole in the expiring Corrupt Practices Act, do not have to file public accountings.

"We're aware that candidates across the country are using this," said Russell Hemenway, director of the National Committee for an Effective Congress which played a key role in writing the new law. "There is not much we can do about it."

John Gardner, chairman of the self-styled Citizens Lobby which has announced plans for monitoring compliance with the law, said "there is some evidence that before the new law takes effect, the President will have collected the biggest war chest of political contributions in the history of the country."

Nixon aides have said the President plans to comply fully with the law, but would make no disclosures of pre-April 7 contributions.

Names of the pre-April 7 contributors to political campaigns may never be known, but the public will get an indication on June 10 of how much was collected for presidential candidates, and for Senate and House candidates.

That's when the first quarterly report will be required of all political committees that have raised or spent more than $1,000 for any campaign. The reports will include all contributions of more than $100 and must show balances on hand as of April 7.

Prior to the June 10 filing, all committees will be required to register and candidates in primaries will be filing detailed contribution-spending reports 15 and 5 days before each election.

The new law is far tougher than the Corrupt Practices Act, but it has a loophole or two of its own, particularly in the enforcement provisions.

For example, candidates for the U.S. Senate will file their reports with the secretary of the Senate; congressmen with the clerk of the House, and presidential candidates with the General Accounting Office, an arm of Congress.

These three offices are charged with investigating any complaints, then referring cases they believe to be valid to the Justice Department for prosecution.

"The built in conflict of interest in having Congress monitor its own activities is clear," Gardner said. "So is the fundamental inconsistency of assigning an employee to investigate and supervise his employer."

During the 47-year life of the Corrupt Practices Act, the attorney general never brought a case against a congressman, he said, and "there is no reason to believe that this will change much under the new act."

Besides the law's disclosure provisions, its other key features:

—Limit to 10 cents per eligible voter spending on television and other advertising (but not direct mail which both parties plan to use extensively) with no more than 6 cents on radio and television. Congressional candidates are limited to this formula or $50,000 whichever is greater. It is unlikely, however, that any district has 500,000 eligible voters and the limit already has grown to $52,000 because of a cost-of-living escalator clause.

—Repeals the widely circumvented $5,000 limit on campaign contributions, but imposes a ceiling on how much a candidate or his family may spend out of their own pockets. The limits are $50,000 for president or vice president, $35,000 for senator and $25,000 for congressmen.

New City Officials Sworn In

(Democrat-Capital Service)

WINDSOR — Swearing in of new city officials, a resolution supporting the expansion of park facilities and discussion of possible city legislation occupied the City Council here Wednesday night.

The council passed a resolution to expand city recreation facilities, including the construction of a new swimming pool.

According to Mayor Rodney Wesner, the pool proposal would be subject to a city-wide bond election to finance the project. The Jaycees here have agreed to underwrite the cost of such an election, Wesner told The Democrat-Capital.

Disposal of solid waste, expansion of the city water supply, the possibility of acquiring new fire fighting equipment and a dog leash ordinance were also discussed. The dog leash measure was assigned to a special committee, but the other proposals will await later council meetings. Wesner said due to the newness of the council, various committees had not been established yet.

Officials sworn into office as city councilmen were Milton Bohon, Dr. Robert Hess and Harold Lee Gehrig. Hess was the only incumbent. Also sworn into office as city marshal was Robert Hankins, who will fill the unexpired term of James Burwell.

Accord on Patent Argument Reached

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — The Archer Daniels Midland Co. has announced agreement with two companies involved in federal court litigation concerning a textured vegetable protein product patent.

ADM said Wednesday both Ralston Purina Co. and Swift and Co., agreed to pay ADM a royalty for a non-exclusive license to make, sell and use vegetable products made in conformity with the patent.

ADM also said it is willing to license others to use its patent.

It covers a high-protein textured product made from soybeans and other vegetable oil seeds.

Officer Secretary Granted Immunity

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The personal secretary of Roy L. Williams, president of Teamsters Local 41 and Joint Council 56, has been granted immunity from prosecution by Judge Elmo B. Hunter and directed to testify before a federal grand jury.

Mrs. Billie Roher, Raytown, Mo., then returned to the grand jury room Wednesday and answered questions from John Emerson, a federal attorney.

Mrs. Roher was subpoenaed by the special grand jury impaneled to investigate organized crime in the Kansas City area.

Williams was indicted by the grand jury in January on a charge of embezzling $16,140 in union funds.

Tank Farm Refinery Explosion

DORAVILLE, Ga. (AP) — An explosion rocked a refinery tank farm in this northeast Atlanta suburb today, killing one man and injuring at least four others.

Flames quickly spread to a small housing subdivision. Witnesses said one house exploded and showered two others with flames, setting them ablaze.

Police quickly evacuated the area around the Triangle Refinery, owned by Kerr-McGee Oil Co.

Debbie Arp, 15, who lives about 100 yards from the tanks, said the blast "sounded like an airplane had fallen into the neighborhood."

"My mother came rushing in yelling at us, 'Get up, get up, it's on fire!'" And then we were all running out of the house and into the street."

About 300 families were evacuated and DeKalb County Police Chief F. D. Hand said he had been advised that the City of Doraville had declared a state of emergency.

Witnesses said flames were shooting hundreds of feet into the air due to the blast.

Refinery foreman Kenneth Womack said the tank farm has seven tanks—each holding a million gallons—and that three of them had burned. The tanks contained gasoline, kerosene and diesel oil and authorities feared others would explode.

Womack identified the dead man as Eugene Smith, about 30, a loading clerk.

The four persons known to be injured were taken to a hospital where two were reported in critical condition and the other two in fair condition.

Womack said the explosion occurred when a gasoline tanker was being loaded.

The refinery is adjacent to the main line of Southern Railway and several men were stationed on the tracks to keep trains out of the area.

A large group of law enforcement officers was on the scene along with several units of the DeKalb Fire Department which was fighting the blaze.

Fire Destroys Two Mobile Homes, Barn

ELDON, Mo. (AP) — Fire destroyed two house trailers and a barn about two miles north of Eldon late Wednesday night.

Officials said the blaze is believed to have started in a trailer owned by Lucille Jobe and spread quickly to a trailer owned by Clay Hickey and then to the barn owned by Oval Dawson.

The exact cause was not determined. There were no injuries and no estimate of the loss.

Lowenstein Blasts Blunders By Nixon

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — President Nixon has done so poorly that he has made the blunders of Lyndon Johnson seem credible, Allard Lowenstein, former New York congressman, told students at the University of Kansas Wednesday.

That is why Nixon can be defeated in this year's election, he said. Young people should study issues the Nixon administration has "fouled up" and take the opportunity to vote him out.

However, he said Democrats would hurt themselves this year if they gave Minnesota Sen. Hubert Humphrey "another chance to prove that he can be defeated by Richard Nixon."

The address was sponsored by a student group seeking to get more young persons to register to vote.

Removing Victims

Rescue workers removed the injured from a Vancouver, Wash., supermarket after a tornado struck the area Wednesday. A supermarket, bowling alley and grade school were leveled by the freak storm. At least six were known dead from the mishap.

Honey Will Not Help Cataracts

Dear Dr. Lamb — I have been told that a drop of honey in the eye every day will dissolve the cataracts. Is this true or false? Your comments will be appreciated.

Dear Reader — False. A cataract involves a coagulation of the protein in the lens of the eye which means that the cells in the clearlike lens become clouded and can't transmit light.

There are several causes for cataracts including severe electrical shock and they are more common in diabetics.

The most widely accepted theory of the cause of the usual form of cataracts, though, is that they are a natural process of aging. The lens of the eye is made up of the same type of tissue that forms the skin over the body. You know that "skin" constantly forms new cells and we slough off the old cells at the surface of the skin. The lens of the eye also constantly forms new cells but it cannot discard them at its surface since the lens is imbedded inside the eye.

The lens of the eye grows larger and larger through the years and the cells that make up the lens are packed tighter and tighter together in the center of the lens. Eventually these tightly packed cells become opaque and form cataracts. Unfortunately, nature designed this system to be sufficiently complex that it is not likely to be faded by a drop of honey. About the only thing that this treatment could do is to cause irritation at the surface of the eye.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I am a junior in high school and involved in athletics. I think I have a hernia of the testicles and it appears that some of the coils extend into my abdomen. When I exert myself I feel an itching discomfort in the area. When I went for a physical to participate in sports my physician checked me for a hernia but he overlooked it. Is this possible?

Dear Reader — Yes, it is possible to miss the presence of a hernia. The type that you are concerned about can slide in or out of the abdomen and if, for one reason or another, it is not out, it is possible to miss the hernia.

There is another possibility. You may not really have a hernia. There is another condition that is associated with the dilation of the veins to the testicles much like varicose veins in the legs that cause the testicle and the area to be enlarged and feel like a bag of worms. These are not necessarily harmful. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Career Day Set By SFCC

State Fair Community College will hold a "Career Day" April 20 to let graduating students meet employers in the college district.

The college placement office is planning the day's activities in co-operation with the Chambers of Commerce of Sedalia, Warsaw, Cole Camp and Lincoln.

According to Jack Fowler, SFCC's placement director, the vocational-technical division of the college will have spring and summer graduates available for employment in the following areas: agri-business, automotive service, automotive technology, business management, clerical skills, drafting technology, electronics technology, farm management, practical nursing, secretarial science and welding technology.

In a letter to the Chambers of Commerce, Fowler said the majority of graduates in these programs desire to remain in the SFCC district but many of them have limited knowledge about job opportunities in the area.

Career Day activities will begin at 8 a.m., with the morning session devoted to group interviews. From 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., employers will meet with individual students.

Certainly Lasso® can add weeks of weed control in either corn or beans. Put it to work at planting—not a week or two before the crop goes in.

Some herbicides control the weeds as long as Lasso.

But when you have to apply them ahead of time to incorporate, you might lose that many days of weed control later in the season.

Not so with Lasso. Put it on when you plant, or apply preemergence. And watch it get the weeds—especially early grasses that steal vital moisture and soil nutrients.

And Lasso gets 'em full-time when it counts—without using up a week or two before your crop gets in.

That's what you expect from your herbicide.

Wool Market Prices Force Subsidy Boost Payment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lowest wool market prices since before World War II are forcing the Agriculture Department to boost direct-subsidy payments to sheepmen by a substantial margin.

The payments are provided under the National Wool Act, passed by Congress in 1954 as an "incentive" program to improve the quality and boost production of U.S. wool.

Basically, the payments make up the difference between the average market price for wool in a year and a goal or "incentive price" determined by the department to be a fair return for growers.

The payments this year are expected to total $110 million, up $38 million from 1971 and more than double what they were two years ago.

Payments are for wool actually marketed by growers in 1971. Last year, the department said, the average wool market price was 19.4 cents per pound, the lowest since 1938.

The payments are made under a formula based on the price a grower received on the market. The payment rate for 1971 wool sold will be 271.1 per cent multiplied by the price a grower received. The percentage is the multiplier required to make up the difference between the national average of 19.4 cents and the incentive level of 72 cents per pound.

Officials say the formula is designed to encourage producers to improve their quality of wool sold. The higher the price a grower gets, the larger the incentive payment.

"For example," the department said in announcing this year's payment program, "if a producer got a 15-cent average return, his payment will be 2.711 times 15 cents or 40.7 cents per pound."

On the other hand, a grower who produced better quality wool and received an average market price of 25 cents a pound would get 2.711 times more, or an incentive payment of 67.8 cents a pound."

The payment rate for 1971 mohair will be 166.4 per cent of sales returns received by growers, the department said. That formula is designed to make up the difference between a 1971 mohair market average of 30.1 cents and the support level of 80.2 cents per pound.

Wool production, reflecting fewer sheep and lambs, has declined steadily and last year was the smallest since the Agriculture Department began keeping wool records in 1873.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department will begin next week buying scrambled egg mix in an effort to help boost prices to laying flock owners.

Egg prices have sagged for more than a year and at mid-March averaged 32 cents a dozen for farmers. If producers received full parity for eggs — based on their expenses — the price would have to be about 56 cents a dozen at the farm level, according to the Crop Reporting Board.

The scrambled egg mix will be bought for donation to needy families participating in USDA food programs.

Special opportunity for people in Sedalia, and Pettis County to join Blue Cross and Blue Shield

More than one-third of all the people in America belong to Blue Cross and Blue Shield, the health care plans that help take care of members' hospital and doctor bills. Even the employees of the Federal Government itself have formed a Blue Cross and Blue Shield group — the largest single group of people in the world with voluntary prepaid health care.

Pettis County needs Blue Cross and Blue Shield

Here in the heart of Missouri the need is just as great as it is anywhere else. People here have accidents, too, and get sick. And, it's just as hard to pay the bills. So it stands to reason that the protection of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, obviously needed so badly everywhere else, is also needed here.

What it can mean to you

Blue Cross and Blue Shield traditionally pay out in benefits to members more than 90% of all the dues collected. In 1970 these plans nationally paid out more than seven billion dollars for members' hospital and doctor bills!

When you are a member of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, your membership card is immediately recognized by hospitals and doctors and identifies you as eligible for the benefits of these plans. Members' basic benefits are paid direct to the member hospitals and doctors. Members are not asked to pay their own bills first and then to wait for reimbursement.

Protection against hospital and doctor bills

Blue Cross and Blue Shield exist solely to protect their members from the financial burden of hospital and doctor bills. They do not exist to earn a dividend for stockholders; they are voluntary, not-for-profit organizations originally started in 1929 by a group of schoolteachers in Texas to help each other prepay expenses which they knew they would have to face sooner or later.

Not sold by salesmen

These famous plans are completely voluntary. No salesman will ever come to your home. There are no salesmen for that purpose.

Four different ways to join

1. Through a group. If you work where five or more persons are employed, your employer may apply to form a group. Essentially what this means is that you and your co-workers join together to help pay each other's hospital and doctor bills.

2. Through the Farm Bureau. If you belong to the Farm Bureau, this is a sensible low-cost way to join Blue Cross and Blue Shield. Contact your Farm Bureau county office.*

3. Non-group membership. It's not necessary to belong to any group in order to join Blue Cross and Blue Shield. You can sign up as an individual, or you can sign your family up as an individual family. Rates for this type of membership are slightly higher than for group membership, but the coverage is excellent.

4. Medicare Tie-In. For persons 65 years of age and over who are eligible for Medicare, Blue Cross and Blue Shield offer a low-cost program that in general fills the holes in the Medicare program. Only persons eligible for Medicare may apply for this type of membership.

Because of the tremendous success and popularity of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, there are many imitations. Sometimes a salesman will try to sell you coverage that he says is "just like Blue Cross and Blue Shield." If this happens, be careful. No other coverage is "just like Blue Cross and Blue Shield." Get complete information by completing and mailing this coupon. No salesman will call on you in your home.

Maxwell President Of Lions

Bob Maxwell was elected president of the Lions Club for 1972-73 at the club's regular meeting Wednesday at the Bothwell Hotel.

Chuck Lawrence, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce, showed a film entitled "It's Up to You in '72." In his introduction of the film Lawrence noted that over 47 million eligible voters did not vote in the 1968 election.

Further showing the lack of voter participation, Lawrence pointed out that only 60.2 per cent of those registered voted four years ago. The film urged more active public participation in politics, emphasizing the individual's role in government.

John Ellison introduced the program.

Other officers elected were: Bill Hall, first vice president; George Ray, second vice president; Kent Charles, third vice president; John Ellison, secretary; Al Domingue, treasurer; David Gaspard, Tail Twister, and Bill McWhirt, Lion Tamer. New directors elected for two years were Robert Cunningham, John Mais and Bill McLaughlin.

John Kenney presided at the meeting.

License Assigned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission announced the following action Wednesday:

KNIM Maryville, Mo., Roger Moyer doing business as Clark Broadcasting Co., granted assignment of license to Nodaway Broadcasting Corp., for $124,000.

Croquet originated in Britain in the middle of the 19th century.

Oppose Busing Proposal

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — A proposal to add Missouri to a list of states calling for a U.S. constitutional convention to end forced busing of school children ran into black opposition Wednesday night before the House Education Committee.

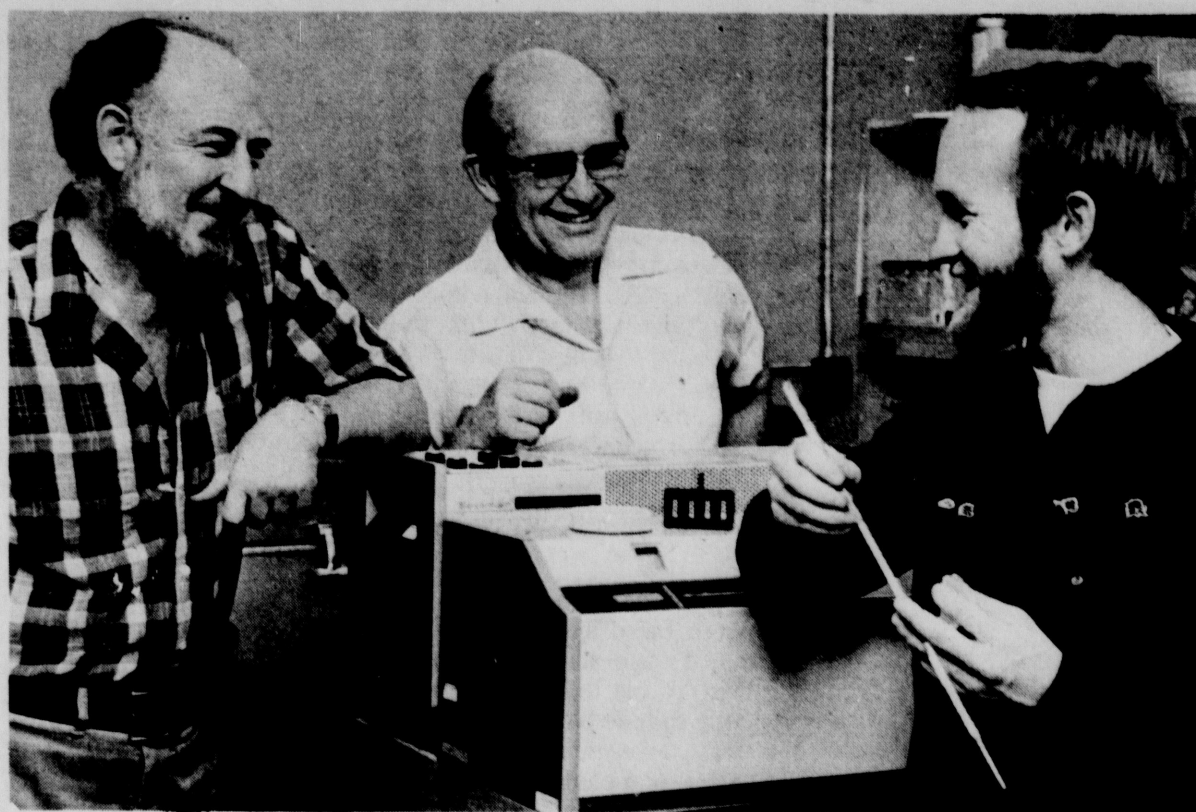

Sen. Raymond Howard, D-St. Louis, said such an amendment to the U.S. Constitution would "turn back the clock and favor segregated schools... would polarize society." He said racism is the "real issue involved."

Two St. Louis representatives, both members of the committee, also voiced opposition to the Senate-passed resolution sponsored by Sen. Earl R. Blackwell, D-Hillsboro.

Rep. Fred Williams, D-St. Louis, accused Blackwell of proposing the resolution as a political maneuver to further his gubernatorial campaign. Rep. DeVern Callaway, D-St. Louis, questioned Blackwell concerning what he considered a fair racial balance.

"Forced busing to attain racial balance is ridiculous... a waste of money... it doesn't upgrade education. It down grades it," Blackwell said.

Blackwell said he would not object to taking the issue to a vote of the people, when an amendment to that effect was proposed by the committee.

Family Affair

Dr. James Wild, right, grandson of Mrs. A. B. Wild, 1302 West Fifth, is the first son of a University of California-Riverside faculty member to earn a doctoral degree at UCR. He is shown with his father, Dr. Robert Wild, center, professor of physics and his graduate advisor, and Dr. William L. Besler, associate professor of microbiology. The younger Dr. Wild recently reported for duty as a microbiologist and Navy lieutenant at the National Naval Medical Center, Bethesda, Md.

Black Elected

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP) — Voters in Carthage have elected the first black to a city council seat. Republican Jesse Redmond defeated Mary Royer, Democrat, in Tuesday's election. Four other council seats were filled.

By JAMES J. KILPATRICK

WASHINGTON — Pity the Fourteenth Amendment! The poor old thing is taking a beating again.

Kilpatrick

Michigan's famed Judge Cooley once called this rule the very "polestar" of constitutional navigation.

The purpose of this wholesome principle manifestly was to prevent judges from substituting their own notions of desirable policy for the wishes of the people themselves. What did a Congress mean when it approved a resolution of amendment? What did the ratifying states intend the amendment to accomplish? These used to be the overriding questions.

The search for honest answers was known as judicial restraint.

Well, alas for judicial restraint. The Supreme Court a couple of weeks ago took the battered Fourteenth Amendment and gave it one more belting around. The amendment was framed in 1866 and ratified (or so it was decreed) in 1868. But a majority of the court last month cared not a fig for the rule of meaning and intention.

It would come as a stunning surprise to the gentlemen who framed and ratified the Fourteenth to know that they then intended to create "the constitutional right of married persons to use contraceptives." They would be staggered to learn that one purpose of their handiwork was to prevent the states from imposing a one-year residency requirement on new voters. But this is what the high court has held.

Most of us had understood, back in the days of strict construction, that the Fourteenth Amendment had but one broad purpose: It was intended to prohibit the states from denying the black man certain civil rights the states had denied him in the past. These civil rights did not even include the black man's right to vote; that had to be protected by the Fifteenth nearly two years later.

Surely, we may believe, the Fourteenth Amendment never was intended to function as a kind of soft-clay Constitution within the Constitution itself. But that is what it has become over the past 50 years. The judges have molded its words to suit themselves. What the amendment says, in its key provision, is that no state shall deprive any person "of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

Behold, what marvels are wrought in the name of due process! See what our judicial magicians can contrive with the incantation of equal protection!

William Baird lectured on birth control three years ago at Boston University. At the close of his lecture, he gave a young woman a sample package of vaginal foam. He was arrested and convicted for dispensing a medicinal article without a license to do so. On March 22, over Chief Justice Burger's lonesome dissent, the court voted 6-1 to reverse his conviction. The young woman had been denied her liberty without due process of law.

The residency case came from Tennessee, where the state had imposed a one-year requirement on new voters. A Vanderbilt law professor, James F. Blumstein, newly arrived in Nashville, challenged the requirement. By the same 6-1 division, the court on March 21 held that Tennessee had no substantial or compelling reason for such a rule; and this being so, Blumstein could not be denied the equal protection of law extended to other persons.

Now, the Massachusetts law may have been foolish; but judges are not supposed to be concerned with folly, but with law. Tennessee's durational requirement may have been unfair. This is not the point. Was it unconstitutional? Was the Tennessee law within the state's power to enact? In 1904 a unanimous court had upheld precisely such a requirement.

Who has amended the Fourteenth Amendment? Not the people. Only the judges. And let it be said another ten thousand times: This they have no right to do.

Political Stunts Escalate

WASHINGTON — When you get right down to it, the Democratic primary races are really a fight for press space and free television time. Because there are so many candidates in the race and none of them has said anything new since they started running, it's very hard for a presidential aspirant to get on the tube or in the papers unless he does something unique.

Buchwald

Mayor John Lindsay, for example, spent the night sleeping on the couch of a $6,000-a-year worker in Milwaukee "to identify with the little man." He was offered the worker's bed, but Lindsay said he'd rather sleep on the couch because he tossed and turned a lot at night.

As time goes on, each candidate's staff is going to have to escalate the type of stunt which will attract press and TV coverage.

I can imagine in the next few months the following conversation in a candidate's office:

"Senator, we've come out with a dandy idea which will get us on the local CBS station. We've entered your wife in a roller derby Saturday night against the Bloodhaws."

"My wife can't roller skate."

"It doesn't make any difference as long as she can fight. We've set it up so 'Hated Hanna,' the captain of the Bloodhaws pulls your wife's hair out. Then your wife hits her in the solar plexus and Hated Hanna will go right over the railing."

"Two other Bloodhaws will attack your wife from the rear and start stomping on her, but her teammates will come to your wife's aid and kick the two across the rink."

"I'm not sure Penelope is up to that."

"It's essential, Senator. This state is bananas about roller derbies, and if your wife gets beaten up by the Bloodhaws, we'll pick up 5 per cent in sympathy votes alone."

"Well, I'm going to go there to see that Penelope doesn't get hurt needlessly."

"You can't, Senator. We've booked you to perform a heart transplant at the General Hospital on the same evening."

"A heart transplant?"

"Yes, we've found a retired factory worker who says you can operate on him. It will be a good chance for you to dramatize your concern for the lack of decent medical treatment in the country. The NBC station is sending out a film crew, and Sander Vanocur will cover it live."

***

"All right, if you think it will help. Tell my wife I'll meet her back at the hotel after the operation."

"Oh, we forgot to tell you. You're not sleeping at the hotel Saturday night. You're sleeping at the zoo. They have a white leopard out there that everyone is crazy about, and we think if you spend a night with him you'll get your picture on every front page in the state."

"Good grief, isn't there any 'other' way of getting exposure?"

"Believe us, Senator, if there were, we wouldn't put you through all this. Now, tomorrow morning you have to be at the state fair with Penelope at 9 sharp."

"That shouldn't be so difficult."

"You've been entered as a couple in the sky-diving championships."

"We're in the sky-diving championships?"

"You're not competing. You're just starting the show. Both of you jump out of a plane at 2,000 feet, free fall for a thousand feet and then yank on your parachutes. ABC bought the idea sight unseen."

"Why doesn't somebody check out these things with me before we're committed?"

"Senator, do you want to be President or don't you? After the sky-diving event, we've lined up some press exposure that no politician can buy."

"What's that?"

"Would you believe we got you the lead in the touring company of 'Oh! Calcutta!'"

Quality Education Already Suffering

The defeat of the school tax levy Tuesday spells more trouble for Sedalia District 200.

Now the district is faced with opening and running the new junior high school next fall with funds inadequate to do the job properly.

To those parents expecting to send their youngsters to public kindergarten next September, there was also notice that there will be none, due to the tax levy defeat.

As if more bad news were needed, we got it Tuesday when the school board was informed by the North Central Association that Smith-Cotton will lose its accreditation next year unless four major areas of deficiency are cleared up. And they can't be without a higher tax levy, school administrators say.

All this plus the fact that the school system as a whole is now rated AA, instead of AAA as previously, and the handwriting is on the wall: our schools are declining in quality, and will continue to do so until Sedalians decide they want to do something about it.

Based on unofficial returns, the 65-cent school levy increase failed Tuesday by 521 votes. Surely between now and next fall (when we would hope the levy will be given another chance) at least 522 voters can be convinced of the urgent need for the money it takes to have better schools in Sedalia.

In the meantime the school board can review the situation and tighten its belt wherever possible, a task that it already has underway. But the fact remains that this will not begin to eliminate the need for a tax increase.

Sedalians are beginning to get the kind of education they are paying for, with their lowest-in-the-state tax levy. But let's not delude ourselves into thinking it's a good deal.

"UNFAIR? LADY, RICH FOLKS PAY THE SAME PRICES AS YOU."

Dita: 'Major' Donor To GOP War Chest

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — From the confidential files of President Nixon's campaign finance committee, we have obtained a list of "major donors" with ITT lobbyist Dita Beard's name on it.

Down the list is also the name of ITT director Felix Rohatyn, who lobbied with the top brass at the Justice Department to drop three antitrust suits against ITT.

The ITT pair are listed with such multi-millionaires as Robert O. Anderson, Henry Ford II, Helen Clay Frick, Richard M. Scaife and W. Clement Stone, who have contributed heavily to the Republican cause in the past.

Yet Mrs. Beard, who worked as a secretary before she became a $29,000-a-year lobbyist, is clearly not in their financial class. It is doubtful that she, with five children to support and medical bills to pay, has ever made any "major" donations to the GOP out of her own pocketbook.

Her name, incidentally, is misspelled as "Deida Beard" on the GOP list of millionaire contributors. But her affiliation with International Telephone and Telegraph is spelled out quite accurately. Her address is given as 1707 L St., N.W., Washington, D.C., which happens to be the location of ITT's Washington office.

The implications, since she has no money of her own, is that she can raise money through her ITT connections for President Nixon's campaign. It would be against the law for ITT to contribute directly to the campaign.

The confidential list was drawn up from "known major donors" to Republican senatorial campaigns in 1970. It was thought the same people would be good prospects to approach for contributions to the Nixon campaign this year.

This list doesn't give the amounts the "known major donors" passed out to GOP candidates in 1970, nor does it mention how much they may be willing to contribute in 1972. Insiders say, however, that the President's chief money grubber, Maurice Stans, has used the list to raise hundreds of thousands of dollars.

To hide the contributions, Stans has set up phony financial fronts in the District of Columbia. These go by such names as "Balanced Society Committee," "Better Society Committee," "Effective Government Council," "Good Government Committee," "Government Reform Committee," and "Loyal Americans for Good Government."

Most of these consist merely of bank accounts, which have been opened in the prestigious First National Bank of Washington. In some cases, bank employees have been pressed into service as treasurers of these spurious citizens groups.

It would take subpoena power to find out exactly who has contributed how much to which committees. But the money from all the bank accounts, like oil from hundreds of pipes, will empty into one main pipeline to fuel the President's re-election campaign.

We asked Stans a series of questions about his major donors, but he refused all comment except to say that he had nothing to do with the 1970 campaign.

In fairness, it should be mentioned that the Democrats use the same techniques to raise campaign funds. Indeed, some of the big-money men, listed as major GOP donors, have also made substantial contributions to Democratic candidates.

ITT's Felix Rohatyn, for example, has managed to find funds for Republican and Democratic candidates alike. He made a $2,500 donation, for example, to the presidential campaign of Sen. Ed Muskie.

It was Rohatyn who dropped by the Justice Department last April 29 to discuss ITT's antitrust problems with Richard Kleindienst, the then deputy attorney general. The same day, Rohatyn had two meetings with then Attorney General John Mitchell, who had disassociated himself from the ITT suits because of a conflict of interest.

Everyone involved swore under oath that the ITT cases never came up when Rohatyn and Mitchell met. The senators were asked to believe that an ITT director, in town to discuss the most crucial lawsuits in the company's history, would float freely from floor to floor in the Justice Department never telling one official the subject of his meeting with another.

ITT President Harold Geneen, himself, also called upon Mitchell. Both men testified that they didn't mention the ITT cases but merely discussed antitrust philosophy.

The senators were expected to believe these two unlikely philosophers, both brusque, busy men, got together for no useful purpose. For, taken at their word, they didn't talk about ITT and, in any event, Mitchell could have done nothing to help ITT since he had disqualified himself.

As ITT's high muck-a-muck, Geneen is paid more than three times President Nixon's salary. He isn't the sort who would make a special trip to discuss antitrust philosophy, without mentioning his own cases, with a man he knew would do nothing to help him.

In May, Geneen also pledged to Republican officials in San Diego that ITT would put up $400,000 — or whatever portion of this amount was needed — to bring the Republican convention to San Diego. A check for $100,000 subsequently was made out to the convention bureau.

This would appear to be a violation of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act, which states categorically: "It is unlawful ... for any corporation whatever, or any labor organization, to make a contribution or expenditure in connection (with) ... any ... political convention."

It will be interesting to see what President Nixon's law-and-order administration does about this violation.

"Of course, the food here is terrible—but that waiter knows more about the stock market than any analyst I've met!"

Skeptical of Economic Controls

By LOUIS HARRIS

The central view of the American people toward the federal price and wage control program is that there have been too many price increases allowed by the Price Commission and too many wage increases allowed by the Pay Board. Simultaneously, there has been a sudden spurt in the number who think the cost of living has been rising faster than a year ago.

In the case of price hikes allowed by the Price Commission, 54 per cent think there have been "too many," compared with only 3 per cent who think there have been "too few." On wage increases, 43 per cent think the Pay Board has granted "too many," compared with only 11 per cent who think there have been "too few."

The basic equity of the price and wage control mechanism has become a national issue with the resignation of George Meany of the AFL-CIO and other labor leaders from the Pay Board. They contended that there were too few increases in wages compared with too many in prices.

The attitude of union members is not far different from that of the general public: on pay increases, 38 per cent of organized workers think there have been "too many," compared to no more than 14 per cent who feel there have been "too few." In the matter of price increases, 55 per cent of union members think there have been "too many" and 3 per cent "too few."

Although the public is more worried about price than pay increases, nonetheless the thrust of public opinion in both areas is for tighter rather than less strict controls. The action by Meany and his fellow trade union heads is likely to meet with enthusiasm from neither the general public nor labor union membership.

In fact, the Harris Survey shows clearly that public doubts about the effectiveness of the Phase Two controls program have been rising. Too measure the mood about unemployment across the country, the Survey has periodically asked this question, most lately in early March, among a cross section of 1,602 families: "Compared to a year ago, do you feel the number of people unemployed around here has increased, decreased, or stayed about the same?"

	Impression of Unemployment Trends
	Up %	Down %	About Same %	Not Sure %
March '72	46	8	39	7
January	43	9	38	10
Nov. '71	40	7	45	8
Oct.	54	6	34	6
Sept.	47	7	39	7
Aug.	58	6	31	5
June	70	5	22	3
May	65	4	25	6
Mar.	62	4	29	5
January	62	5	27	6

Although the levels of concern about unemployment are much lower today than a year ago, nevertheless there has been a steady increase since last November in the number who feel the movement is upward on joblessness.

Public worry about prices has jumped more dramatically than concern over unemployment. Cross sections of the public have been asked this question: "Do you feel the prices of most things you buy are rising more rapidly than a year ago, about as rapidly as they were then, less rapidly than a year ago, or are they going down?"

	Impression of Price Trends
	More Rapidly %	As Rapidly %	Less Rapidly %	Going Down %	Not Sure %
March '72	59	28	11	—	2
January	47	33	16	1	3

June	70	24	5	—	1
May	72	20	6	—	2
March	73	22	4	—	1
January	65	28	5	1	1

The number of persons who think that prices are going up more rapidly than a year ago has soared back to almost the same level as last October. The increase in perceived price rises has been taking place since January, but now appears to have been accelerated with the upward trend in food prices.

Despite these signs that the problems of unemployment and price controls are not being solved, public confidence in the basic Nixon economic policy still remains on the positive side, although there are some signs of slippage. People were asked: "Do you feel the economic policies of the Nixon Administration are doing more good than harm or more harm than good?"

	Nixon Economic Policies
	More Good than Harm %	More Harm than Good %	Not Sure %
March '72	47	28	25

Aug.	47	29	24
May	32	40	28
Mar.	34	37	29
Jan.	35	39	26

In effect, the public is still willing to give the Nixon Administration the benefit of the doubt on its economic policies, no doubt a carry-over from the overwhelming approval people gave the price-wage freeze of last August.

Up to a few weeks ago, the burden of proof for the success of price and wage controls appeared to rest squarely with the Administration in office. But with the resignation of leaders of organized labor from the Pay Board, the chances of George Meany and the leaders of labor absorbing at least part of the blame for any increase in inflation have been materially enhanced.

Earnings Reports Are Due

People who received one or more monthly social security retirement or survivors checks in 1971 and who earned over $1,680 in 1971 are required to submit an annual report of their earnings to social security by April 17, according to C. Kent Charles, social security district manager here.

The annual report shows how much a social security beneficiary earned last year in wages and self-employment income, and what, if any, he expects to earn this year. The key word is "earn." Income from interest, dividends, other retirement plans, rent, or sale of real or personal property (unless received by a real estate dealer), should not be included in the report of earnings, according to Charles.

The annual report is used to determine if a beneficiary was paid the correct amount of cash payments last year. It's also used to adjust his monthly payments for this year according to his estimated earnings, he said.

Disability beneficiaries or beneficiaries who were over 72 during all months of 1971 do not need to make an annual earnings report, Charles said.

"There are penalties for beneficiaries who file late or do not file an annual report when one is due, unless good cause can be shown. A penalty means a loss of benefits," he said.

Annual report forms are available at any social security office.

Davis Unveils 'Meat' Report

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — State Agriculture Commissioner Dexter D. Davis took the wraps off a confidential federal meat inspection report Wednesday, but only long enough to give the Senate Appropriations Committee a peek at it behind closed doors.

Both Davis and committee chairman Sen. Donald Manford, D-Kansas City, were tight-lipped about what the report contained after a 45-minute executive session.

But both said the committee apparently was satisfied the report contained nothing that would jeopardize the continuation of the state meat inspection program or the nearly $600,000 appropriation for that purpose.

Davis at the same time branded as "ridiculous" reports by a Springfield television station, KYTV, that Davis entered into a secret agreement with officials of the U.S. Department of Agriculture to salvage the state program.

From what could be gleaned from various sources, the report found inadequacies in some small meat processing plants which led federal authorities to recommend discontinuation of the state program, operated under the auspices of USDA.

At that point last fall, Davis confirmed he contacted the television station and asked that a story on the report be withheld while he negotiated with federal officials to give the state program another chance.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes recommended dropping the program in his budget recommendations in the interest of economy, but the House restored the funds on the grounds that rigid federal standards would force many small processors out of business even though the wholesomeness of their product was sound.

Manford attempted to get a copy of the report, but was turned down by federal authorities and by Davis, who said the report was confidential.

Finally, by a 31-1 vote the Senate directed Lt. Gov. William S. Morris to sign a subpoena forcing Davis to give the committee access to the records.

The press was barred from the hearing, held literally behind locked doors, on a motion by Sen. J. F. "Pat" Patterson, D-Caruthersville, who said the committee should study the documents privately.

Davis said he didn't think an agreement between a Democratic state administration and a Republican national administration could ever be kept secret.

The allegation, however, has prompted the U.S. House of Representatives Agriculture Committee to call KYTV newsman Steve Kraushaar as a witness April 24 in a hearing on a bill to increase funding of federal-state meat and poultry inspection.

Bitter Words Fly

MLPA Strike In Sixth Day

NEW YORK (AP) — The second day of the season arrived today with no baseball yet but a count of one strike and with rival pitchers Marvin Miller and John Gahehin warming up again in the bullpen.

The players' walkout, which began Saturday and caused an early end to spring training, forced postponement of Wednesday's scheduled opener in Cincinnati between the Reds and Houston Astros, along with the eight contests on today's slate and two games listed for Friday—Philadelphia at St. Louis and the Chicago Cubs at Montreal.

With bitter feelings continuing to spew forth from both sides and with Paul Richards, vice president of the Atlanta Braves, warning that there might not be any baseball "for a long, long time," the only encouraging sign was a meeting scheduled here today—time and site unknown—between Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, and Gahehin, representing the 24 club owners.

Richards said the owners aren't against the players but are "fed up" with Miller and "simply aren't going to let Marvin Miller run over them any more."

Miller's target, meanwhile, was Earl Weaver, manager of the Baltimore Orioles. Weaver had said that 21 of his 26 players had been willing to defy the walkout and open the season on schedule. He added that 16 of those 21 had been willing to play an exhibition game last Saturday, the day the strike started.

Miller met Wednesday with 18 members of the Orioles at Brooks Robinson's house in suburban Baltimore and accused Weaver of illegal attempts to break the walkout.

"There's a fine point in labor laws and he's gone way overboard," Miller said. "His attempts to break the strike have been as a representative of management—which have nothing to do with being a field manager."

Robinson disputed Weaver's version of the balloting.

"Actually," he said, "the vote was 16-4 that we would be willing to play, but only if the owners would agree to accept figures of the actuaries on the amount of surplus already existing in the pension fund."

The latest move came Tuesday night when the owners met in Chicago and reaffirmed their rejection of an offer by the players that a surplus in the pension fund be used to meet their demand for a 17 per cent cost-of-living increase in retirement benefits.

The owners have offered to boost their yearly pension contributions of $5.4 million by $490,000—with all of the increase earmarked for health care.

While players from most teams practiced whenever and wherever they could, 16 members of the Chicago White Sox worked out in White Sox Park and the Pittsburgh Pirates announced that Three Rivers Stadium would be available today for any players who wanted to do the same.

But Jack Gearding, owner of the Stadium Club, a bar-restaurant near the stadium, said he didn't do so badly.

Gearding admitted, however, that he took reservations for every seat in the place "three or four times."

"But it was interesting," he said. "Some of them came down regardless and had an opening day party. They were determined to celebrate opening day whether it happened or not."

"It hurt," he said, "but I guess we'll come back."

Francis L. Dale, Reds president, said at a news conference the owners were adamant in their opposition to the Major League Baseball Players Association demand for a 17 per cent increase in pensions.

"The fans deserve to know what is happening to their game," he said. "We (the owners) want most of all to play the season. We will attempt to solve the problem and to achieve an agreement on the pension." Dale is a member of the owners negotiating committee.

Dale said there was an unfunded liability of $20 million in the pension fund which is committed to be paid off in 25 years. He said an average increase of 17 per cent in the pension fund would increase that by $8 million.

"We have been told that the pension plan is the best in America," he said. "Our conclusion is that a 17 per cent increase on top of that best plan in America is unreasonable."

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Parings for the double elimination Missouri Valley Conference baseball tournament to be held in Memphis May 15-18 were announced Wednesday.

The upper bracket has Tulsa versus Louisville and New Mexico State going against St. Louis. In the lower bracket, Bradley plays West Texas State and Drake will play host Memphis State University.

BATTLE TO DRAW

BOSTON (AP) — Former New England heavyweight champion Paul Raymond of Somerville, Mass., and Bob Simmons of Chester, Pa., fought to an eight-round draw Wednesday night in a feature boxing bout at a black tie affair at the Harvard Club of Boston.

Takin' It Easy

Chicago White Sox Manager Chuck Tanner has some time to relax these days with the current Major League Players Association strike. The uniforms are ready, but players won't be wearing them for a while ... at least until some kind of agreement is made between the players and the club owners. The White Sox were scheduled to open the season Thursday at home against Oakland, but that game has been cancelled. (UPI)

Kostopolus, Arnold Get Starting Nod for S-C

Paul Kostopolus, a sophomore, and senior Mike Arnold have been given the nod as "Skip" Schulz' starting pitchers for the Smith-Cotton Tigers Friday, when they open the Central Missouri Conference baseball season in Jefferson City.

S-C, who has not seen action for nearly two weeks due to the weather, is 1-1 overall. The Jays jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead in the league race with a doubleheader victory over Hannibal Monday. Jefferson City is 3-0 for the season.

The weather has caused numerous cancellations and postponements around the league, and S-C, Jefferson City and Hannibal have been the only teams to see action.

In addition to his starting pitchers, Schulz indicated Thursday that the remaining lineup would probably remain the same as it was in the games two weeks ago in Springfield.

That being the case, rounding out the starting lineup would be: Steve Herzberg, catcher; Kim Anderson, first; Ralph Perri, second; Derrick Crank, second; and freshman Rick McRoy at third.

In the outfield, Schulz will go with Jim Sanders, Pete Kostopolus and Doug Maple.

"I have been pleased with our practice sessions," says Schulz. "What we need most of all is to play, but the weather has had other ideas."

In addition to the Tigers' conference twinbill with Jefferson City, Hannibal travels to Mexico Friday in another conference doubleheader.

Raytown visits Columbia for a pair of non-league games. Saturday, Park Hill and the Bengals meet in a non-league contest at 1 p.m. in Liberty Park Stadium.

Also on Saturday is a doubleheader at Columbia, with the Kewpies hosting Westran.

Auggie Speaks Out

'Worried Sick Over Future'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — August A. Busch, Jr., owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, said Wednesday the strike by baseball players has him "worried sick" about the future of the game.

"Baseball could fall on its rear without any argument if this thing is prolonged for any length of time," said the 73-year-old head of Anheuser-Busch, Inc.

He said the club owners have "gone the limit" in their offer for fringe benefits and the action by the players threatens the game.

Busch said he had figured on 1.5 million fans attending games in St. Louis this year. "If this were a sport, I wouldn't object a bit, but this has turned into a business," Busch said.

"Being a businessman, I don't like to report to my stockholders on the investment we have in the Cardinals and what we have done for St. Louis," he said, noting that his club contributed $5 million toward the construction of Busch Stadium.

Busch said if the strike continues for long he will insist that the players be in fit condition before they start to play. He said the players should not be allowed to draw salaries until they are in condition to play.

The Cardinals have cancelled their season opener against Philadelphia on Friday and said ticket-holders would be refunded money on games not played.

Dal Maxvill, player representative on the Cardinals, was quoted in the Post-Dispatch Wednesday as saying he feels the owners are trying to break the Major League Baseball Players Association, which has demanded more money in the players' pension fund.

The players offered a compromise plan to take pension fund interest money and add it to the fund, but the owners rejected it.

"It's hard to think otherwise," said Maxvill, "when it's not a matter of money and the clubowners still say no."

Ky. Finds Win Column

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The Kentucky Colonels look like the Kentucky Colonels again. For a while, Les Hunter wasn't sure.

"I was concerned the way we had been playing," Hunter said after his club pulled out of a two-game spin by beating the New York Nets 105-99 in their American Basketball Association East semifinal playoff series Wednesday night.

The Nets take their 2-1 advantage in the best-of-seven series into game No. 4 here Friday night.

"Our confidence was shattered after losing the first two games in the playoffs," said Hunter, who came off the bench to score 19 points and help the Colonels win their first game against the underdog Nets.

In the only other ABA playoff game Wednesday night, the defending champion Utah Stars beat the Dallas Chaparrals 96-89 and took a 3-0 edge in their West set. That series resumes Friday night in Dallas.

Today's games include Virginia at the Floridians in the East semifinals and Indiana visiting Denver in the West.

Walt Simon, another reserve in a hero's role for Kentucky, scored 25 points coming off the bench. He wasn't even put in for that purpose, either.

"The only reason I had Simon in the game was to get some defense from him," said Joe Mullaney, the Kentucky coach. "His scoring was a bonus. The idea was to get a taller guard to stop John Roche."

Roche had scored 31 points in each of the Nets' first two victories over the heavily-favored Colonels. The 6-foot-5 Simon, who entered the game with three minutes left in the first quarter, held Roche to 22.

Rick Barry scored a game-high 39 points for New York, but had an atrocious shooting figure in the second half—3 of 17 from the floor.

"I couldn't buy a basket," said New York's star forward. "I suppose I'm a little tired, but I'm still supposed to put the ball in the hoop. You're not supposed to have bad games in the playoffs ... that's how you become a spectator."

Zelmo Beaty, one of the "old men" of Utah at age 31, scored 24 points to help the Stars down the Chaps.

"The old man gets regenerated when the playoffs start," quipped Beaty, who played 48 minutes and had 14 rebounds along with his high point total.

"I don't see how Zelmo does it," said Utah Coach LaDell Anderson. "I get tired just sitting on the bench."

Donnie Freeman, who tied the score at 85 before the bottom fell out for Dallas, led the losers with 21 points.

Crowder Powers Past SF

(Democrat-Capital Service)

NEOSHO, Mo. — Bill Cook and Dave Buckingham slammed a pair of home runs and Mark Swafford added another, as the Crowder College Roughriders powered past State Fair Community College in a doubleheader, Wednesday, 11-1 and 8-4.

Cook and Buckingham rapped one home run apiece in each of the games, while Swafford's blast came in the opener.

The Roadrunners were held to nine hits for the afternoon, five of which came in the opener, with the remaining four coming in the second tilt. Mitch Silvers collected three of those hits.

Jim Coffelt was tagged with the loss in the opener; Don Madole was the loser in the second game.

Jack Waterburg and Chuck Hilton were the winners for the Roughriders.

State Fair, winless in 14 outings, take on Crowder in their next outing Monday afternoon in Liberty Park Stadium, in a doubleheader which starts at 1 p.m.

One of the bright spots for Coach Foster McGuire in Wednesday's tilts was the fact that SFCC committed only three errors in the two games. Errors have played a big part in the Roadrunners' 0-14 slate.

Opening Day Plans Altered

CINCINNATI (AP) — For 52 years the Findlay Market Association has paraded to the ball park for the "opening day" of baseball, and for 35 years the show has been run by Chester A. Lathrop.

This year Lathrop took the day off anyway but spent it in his backyard planting tomatoes.

Wednesday's opener between the Reds and the Houston Astros was postponed because of a strike by the ball players.

Lathrop's crew planned to give Reds manager Sparky Anderson a basket of fruit and general manager Bob Howsam a new flag to fly over Riverfront Stadium.

"We've been prepared for months," said Lathrop. "It's just too bad it didn't come off. The weather was beautiful." He added that the ceremonies will be held whenever opening day is rescheduled after the strike.

"I'm a little sad," he said, "I think the fans might be a little discouraged and feel bad."

Turn Over Ice Rink Petition

OLATHE, Kan. (AP) — A petition seeking a sports authority for Johnson County to build an arena to house a National Hockey League team has been turned over to the Johnson County Commission.

James E. Murry, an Overland Park arena advocate, said Wednesday the petition had more than 2,000 signatures. The 1972 enabling law for the authority requires 1,000 names.

The commissioners set 10 a.m. April 21 for a public hearing on the proposition, pending certification that 1,000 of the petition signers are qualified electors in the county.

The law provides revenue bonds to finance construction would be underwritten by a 1 to 3 per cent tax on restaurant and motel receipts.

Restaurant owners have organized to try to force the issue to a referendum. A referendum petition requires 5 per cent of the registered voters to sign or about 4,092 in Johnson County.

NCAA Files $285,000 Suit

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A $285,763.80 damage suit, second of its kind in recent weeks, has been filed by the National Collegiate Athletic Association against the American Basketball Association and Jim McDaniels, former All-American at Western Kentucky.

The action was filed Wednesday in U.S. District Court in Louisville, Ky. It also named the ABA Carolina Cougars, Athletes Advisory Group, Inc., and Norman Blass, one of the advisory group's agents, as defendants.

The suit is designed to halt what the NCAA regards as secret signings by the ABA of College players with remaining eligibility. It asks $185,763.80 actual damages and $100,000 exemplary damages.

The NCAA filed similar action Feb. 23 against the ABA and former Villanova All-American Howard Porter. Both suits ask that the ABA be ordered to announce names of college athletes with remaining eligibility within 24 hours after entering into an oral or written agreement to play in the ABA or with an ABA team.

McDaniels was the star in Western Kentucky's third-place finish in the 1971 NCAA basketball championship tournament.

The NCAA said its investigation showed that McDaniels signed an undated agency contract in October 1970 to play in the ABA and a five-year, $900,000 contract with Cougars owner Theodore J. Munchak in November, 1970.

McDaniels signed an undated employment agreement with the ABA and $25,000 cash was paid "to or for defendant McDaniels," the NCAA charged.

Minnesota goalie "Gump" Worsley dives out to push the puck off the stick of St. Louis Blues' Garry Unger, during the opening period of the St. Louis-Minnesota Stanley Cup quarterfinal

Player Says . . .

'Ought to Allow Blacks to Play'

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Gary Player, from apartheid South Africa, said today the Masters Golf Tournament cannot reach full stature until black men along with whites are walking Augusta National's fairways not just as caddies but as competitors.

"I don't want to create a controversy and I am aware rules are rules," added the rugged little pro from Johannesburg. "But with the number of good black players increasing on the tour I think it is a shame that none has enjoyed the experience others of us have experienced at the Masters."

"It is a wonderful tournament—a favorite tournament for me—but I hope soon the rules are relaxed so that a black man may qualify."

Player is one of 85 of the world's top professional and amateur golfers teeing off today in the 36th edition of the colorful event that came out of the head of the late Robert Tyre (Bob) Jones.

In the star-spangled field are yellow men from Asia, Latins from South America and Spain, foreigners from Canada, Britain, New Zealand and Australia.

But there are no black men—just as there have been no black men, except caddies and locker room waiters, since the tournament was born in 1934.

Clifford Roberts, the tournament chairman and its cofounder, insists there is no ban against black competitors, saying, "We will welcome a Negro player as soon as he meets our rules of qualifications."

"I understand and appreciate that," Player said. "I am merely saying that it will be a better tournament when there are better chances for black men to make it."

"As a former champion, I tried to get other former champions to join me in inviting Lee Elder. Then I discovered that this invitation category, in effect for years, was abandoned with the rule permitting all tour winners to play."

In addition to various major tournament champions of recent years, four winners and members of the Ryder and Walker cup teams, the Masters Tournament automatically qualifies the first 24 finishers of the preceding Masters, the top 16 of the last U.S. Open and the top eight of the U.S. Amateur.

The entrance door thus is very narrow, although invitations are tendered annually to various overseas players, of which this year there are 17.

Player, 35, is the chief threat of these invaders, rated at 7-1 in the official odds just back of three-time winner, Jack Nicklaus, 6-1. Three players are figured at 8-1—Lee Trevino, the controversial player of the year in 1971; 42-year-old Arnold Palmer and putting whiz Bill Casper.

The defending champion, Charles Coody, is an outsider at 20-1.

Columbia Golfers Top S-C, 201-222

Behind Bill Pearson's 34, the Columbia Hickman golf team topped Smith-Cotton Wednesday at the Walnut Hills Country Club, notching a 201-222 win.

The Tigers are now 0-2 for the season and were scheduled to take on Mexico Thursday afternoon on the WHCC course.

Typical Stanley Cup Play

Playoffs Off to Rough Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Stanley Cup hockey playoffs have started. So have the rhubarbs.

Keith Magnuson of the Chicago Black Hawks suffered a 12-stitch cut in his forehead as the Hawks turned back the Pittsburgh Penguins 3-1 in one of the four opening-round playoff tussles Wednesday night.

And Dennis O'Brien of Minnesota and Jack Egers of St. Louis went at each other in a fierce brawl as the North Stars blanked the Blues 3-0.

In the other two openers, there was no fighting, but plenty of fast skating and hard checking. The New York Rangers shaded the Montreal

Canadiens 3-2 and the Boston Bruins shut out the Toronto Maple Leafs 5-0.

The same clubs play the second game in their best-of-7 series at the same sites tonight. Montreal at New York, Pittsburgh at Chicago, St. Louis at Minnesota and Toronto at Boston.

Magnuson suffered the cuts on his forehead in a run-in with Eddie Shack of Pittsburgh near the end of the second period of the game in Chicago. Referee Bill Friday charged Shack with high-sticking and added a five-minute major. The call brought a tirade from Red Kelly, Pittsburgh coach.

"I thought it was a good call," countered Coach Billy Reay of the Hawks. "It was a tough skating game. I guess the Stanley Cup playoffs have started." Pit Martin led the Hawks with two goals.

Four separate fights and a total of 80 minutes in penalties marked Minnesota's win over St. Louis, the fifth Stanley Cup shutout for the North Stars veteran 42-year-old goalie, Gump Worsley.

In addition to the O'Brien-Egers brawl, the other scraps involved Garry Unger, St. Louis, and Barry Gibbs, Minnesota; Tom Reid, Minnesota, and Phil Roberto, St. Louis, and Dennis Hextall, Minnesota, and Barclay Plager, St. Louis. O'Brien and Egers tried to get at each other on the way to the penalty box by climbing over the scorer's table.

Dean Prentice paced the North Stars with two goals, but had his stick thrown out because of illegal curvature. Three other players also had their sticks thrown out, Charley Burns, Minnesota, Danny O'Shea and Egers of St. Louis.

Phil Esposito, the National Hockey League's scoring champion, led the Bruins over Toronto with two goals to back up the shutout goaltending of Gerry Cheevers.

Vic Hadfield also scored two goals in leading New York over Montreal. His second, which proved to be the winner, came with seven minutes remaining in the game.

Larry Pummill Accepts Versailles Cage Position

LAMONTE — Larry Pummill, who has been the head basketball coach at LaMonte High School for the past six seasons, will move into the head cage coaching position at Versailles High School next season.

He replaces Dave Cameron, who plans to return to school in Arkansas.

While at LaMonte, Pummill guided the Vikings to a six-year record of 109-58. Two of his teams, the 1968-69 and the 1971-72 squads, won 20 or more games.

One of the highlights of Pummill's career at LaMonte came this past season, when the Vikings upset Sacred Heart in the championship game of the Lincoln Class S Regional Tournament.

The Versailles Tigers are members of the tough Tri-County Conference.

MU's Hank Kuhlman Takes Packer Job

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Henry "Hank" Kuhlman, assistant football coach for the University of Missouri the last nine years, has accepted a job with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Rejoining Coach Dan Devine, for whom he played and coached, the 35-year-old Kuhlman will become the Packers' special teams coach, a new post.

Al Onofrio, who succeeded Devine at MU last year, said, "Hank has made a real contribution to Missouri football. I'm happy that he has this opportunity to advance himself professionally."

Kuhlman, who was twice all conference fullback at MU, said, "I hate to leave right now. But this is a promotion that will help broaden me as a coach. I couldn't turn it down."

Name Gilmore MVP in ABA

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Basketball Association's Most Valuable Player is not totally satisfied with himself.

"I could have done some things better this year," Artis Gilmore said Wednesday after learning that he was the league's MVP.

Gilmore, Kentucky's 7-foot-2 center who led the Colonels to a record 68 victories and the East Division title, was named on 30 ballots in voting by sports writers and sportscasters in the 11 ABA cities. He finished far ahead of teammate Dan Issel, who had seven votes.

Gilmore said he was "happy with my scoring . . . but I could have learned how to maneuver closer to the basket and use my weight, what little I have," for more rebounds.

Gilmore was the league's best regular-season rebounder with an average of 17.8 while finishing 10th in scoring with a 23.9 average.

While unhappy with his complete performance, he admitted that winning the coveted trophy "showed that I accomplished something."

Along with the MVP award, the big rookie was named on the ABA's All-League team along with Issel, who ironically polled more votes for the star-studded team than Gilmore.

Issel, who broke the league scoring mark with 2,538 points and was No. 3 in scoring with a 30.6 average, was a first-team forward along with Rick Barry of the New York Nets. Issel polled 40 first-team votes and 92 points. Barry took 34 first-team votes for 86 points and Gilmore received 38 first-team ballots for 85 points.

The first-team guards were Donnie Freeman of the Dallas Chaparrals and Bill Melchionni of the New York Nets.

The All-League second team included center Zelmo Beaty of Utah; forwards Willie Wise of Utah and Julius Erving of Virginia; and guards Ralph Sampson of Denver and Charlie Scott of Virginia.

Issel, the 6-9 rookie of the year last season, successfully made the switch to forward this season when Gilmore joined the team. Barry is the only repeater from last year and has made the first team all four of his years in the ABA.

Sir Lancelot du Lac, the best bridge player at King Arthur's square table as well as the best knight, felt that he had more than enough to jump to game even though he knew that his partner, Galahad the Pure, was apt to have raised on nothing but faith in the ability of the peerless knight to play the dummy.

Galahad put down the dummy and Lancelot saw that there really was no play for his contract. The wily Mordred had opened a club right up to Lancelot's ace-queen. That was certainly a pleasant start but it wasn't going to be enough.

Lancelot would have to knock out the ace of hearts and Mordred would surely attack the diamond suit and set the hand with three diamond tricks.

Lancelot saw all this in less time than it would take him to parry a sword thrust. He also saw a possible way to make the contract.

It all depended on which club Agravaire sitting East would play. Agravaire played the jack and Lancelot was ready. He won the trick with the ace, not the queen.

Then he drew trumps and led his king of hearts. Mordred was on lead with the ace and fell right into the trap just as anyone would. Clearly Agravaire held the club queen. Clearly it was most important to put him on lead.

Mordred led a low club and the peerless one had won another rubber.

Say February Attack Hurt Enemy Strategy

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — A South Vietnamese drive against enemy staging areas in the A Shau Valley last month spoiled Hanoi's plans for a simultaneous blitz in both of South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces and kept the enemy's spring offensive from being worse than it is, a senior U.S. officer says.

"The general situation has improved tremendously for the last two days," the officer said Wednesday. "I'm kind of optimistic right now."

He added that government lines were holding and casualties were lower than feared.

The enemy's main objective is Hue, the former imperial capital 52 miles below the demilitarized zone, the officer said. He observed that as a prize it would be "bigger psychologically than Da Nang," South Vietnam's second largest city 50 miles farther south, because of its historical importance.

"But they're not going to take it," the officer emphasized, despite day-long fighting Wednesday in mountains 15 miles southwest of Hue. "We are concerned about a threat to Hue. On the other hand, at the present time I don't consider it the gravest threat."

The most critical area, he said, is the Ba Long Valley, 22 miles below the DMZ, along which the enemy is trying to move to cut off Quang Tri City, the provincial capital.

Hanoi's plan is believed to have called for attacks toward Hue at the same time as the invasion across the DMZ, the officer said. But he said the March operation of South Vietnamese troops around the A Shau Valley ruined the plan and "forced the enemy to fight two weeks ahead of schedule."

"I think it spoiled their coordination," he said, "but it made it easier for us because we didn't have to handle both attacks at once."

The waning rainy season is hampering allied air power less and less, and improving weather is making bombing raids more effective, he continued. The tapering off of enemy rocket and artillery attacks in Quang Tri Province indicates the enemy is having problems moving supplies and also may have lost a lot of munitions to air strikes, he said.

He reported that South Vietnamese casualties in the DMZ offensive probably number about 1,000 killed, missing and captured. The officer declined to speculate on enemy losses because there has been little opportunity to count bodies. But other allied officials estimate 2,000 to 3,000 enemy killed.

Reveal Materiel Cache By North Vietnamese

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say North Vietnam has stored up enough war materiel on each of three fronts to carry the current offensive in South Vietnam through the month.

Recent infiltration rates of men and supplies were said to be the heaviest since the period immediately preceding the 1968 Tet offensive.

Vietnamese diplomatic sources, calling it a three-front war now, point out that action already has flared south of the demilitarized zone, and along a second front in the Central Highlands. The third front is along the border of central Cambodia.

Committee Is Puzzled By Budget

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee fretted for about an hour Wednesday night before throwing in the towel on a budget dilemma.

Committee Chairman Sen. Donald Manford, D-Kansas City, said no progress was achieved in the talks and it was decided to push the problem over until the next slated meeting of the committee at 10 a.m. Monday.

The entire state budget was thrown back into the laps of the committee Wednesday shortly after the Senate approved, 21-11, the restoration of a full $35 million increment in increased aid to public schools.

Manford said some "extraordinary recommendations" were made by members of the committee after the $15 million committee cut in school aid was overridden. He would not elaborate.

But sources close to the committee indicated there is strong sentiment in the committee to "sit on" the budget bills until more up-to-date data is available on anticipated revenue.

Budget problems must be resolved by April 22, or Gov. Warren E. Hearnes might be compelled to call a special session of the legislature.

The Senate disagrees with the administration's estimates of anticipated revenue to cover the state's share of the $1.9 billion budget recommended by Hearnes.

Many members of the Senate committee apparently felt that the $15 million restored in school aid would have to be retrieved from tentative budget approvals for other agencies and programs.

Another alternative would be the reconsideration of Senate action Wednesday. But members of the committee were silent on whether a promised return to original committee recommendations on school foundation funds would prompt quick action on other budget bills.

School foundation funds would total about $339 million with full $35 million increase, the last of four such increments in a four-year period designed to bring the state aid to schools close to 50 per cent financing of operating costs.

On each of these lines, there are at least three Communist divisions, or, 30,000 to 40,000 men on each front.

The next few days will be rather fluid, but in a matter of two to three weeks the Communist drive will be contained, the Vietnamese say.

American spokesmen say the North Vietnamese have not yet committed all their ground forces to the action. The 5th, 7th and 9th divisions are in the Tay Ninh region near the Cambodian border. The 304th, 308th and 324-B divisions are in the regions south of the demilitarized zone. The equivalent of three divisions, numbering 27,000 to 35,000 men, made up of various regiments, are in the Central Highlands, near Kontum and Pleiku.

There has been a show of force in the opening days of the offensive with the advance of tanks and halftracks, but heavy infantry fighting also has taken place.

U.S. sources speculate that Hanoi has moved on South Viet-

Revamp Proposal Approved

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Missouri's state government would be reorganized into 14 major departments under a new plan approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday.

In addition, an administrative officer created by the legislature last year would help the governor run day to day operations, starting next year.

Three other department slots would be left open for possible later growth or change.

Sen. William J. Cason, D-Clinton, sponsored the compromise to replace a House-passed version of a constitutional amendment recommended by the state Reorganization or "Little Hoover" Commission.

He said he would be an active proponent of the bill and as majority floor leader of the Senate could help push it along in the closing three weeks of the session.

If passed by the Senate, it would still have to be passed by the House before going on the ballot for voter approval or rejection.

Under the substitute plan, all of the 87 state agencies that now report to the governor would be replaced on a functional basis by these main departments:

Agriculture, Human and Consumer Affairs, Conservation, Mental Health, Natural Resources, Elementary and Secondary Education, Higher Education, Highways, Transportation, Labor, Commerce and Industry, Public Safety, Revenue, Social Services.

It would be up to future legislatures to set uniform pay scales and job classifications, decide which departments should be under the state merit system, and designate which agencies should go into the big new departments.

nam to demonstrate to the world that it can strike whenever it desires, regardless of the American presence, and that it is willing to pay a price.

Vietnamese diplomats say Hanoi felt its deteriorating diplomatic position and low troop morale called for a move at this time.

There is also the desire to embarrass the Nixon administration during the U.S. presidential election campaign, the diplomats say.

Established Television Fare Shown

NEW YORK (AP) — Television has some established traditions. Among them are the classic ingredients which made the "safe"—i. e., noncontroversial—special.

Ice shows and circus-highlights programs are particularly favored. Water-based extravaganzas are a popular third.

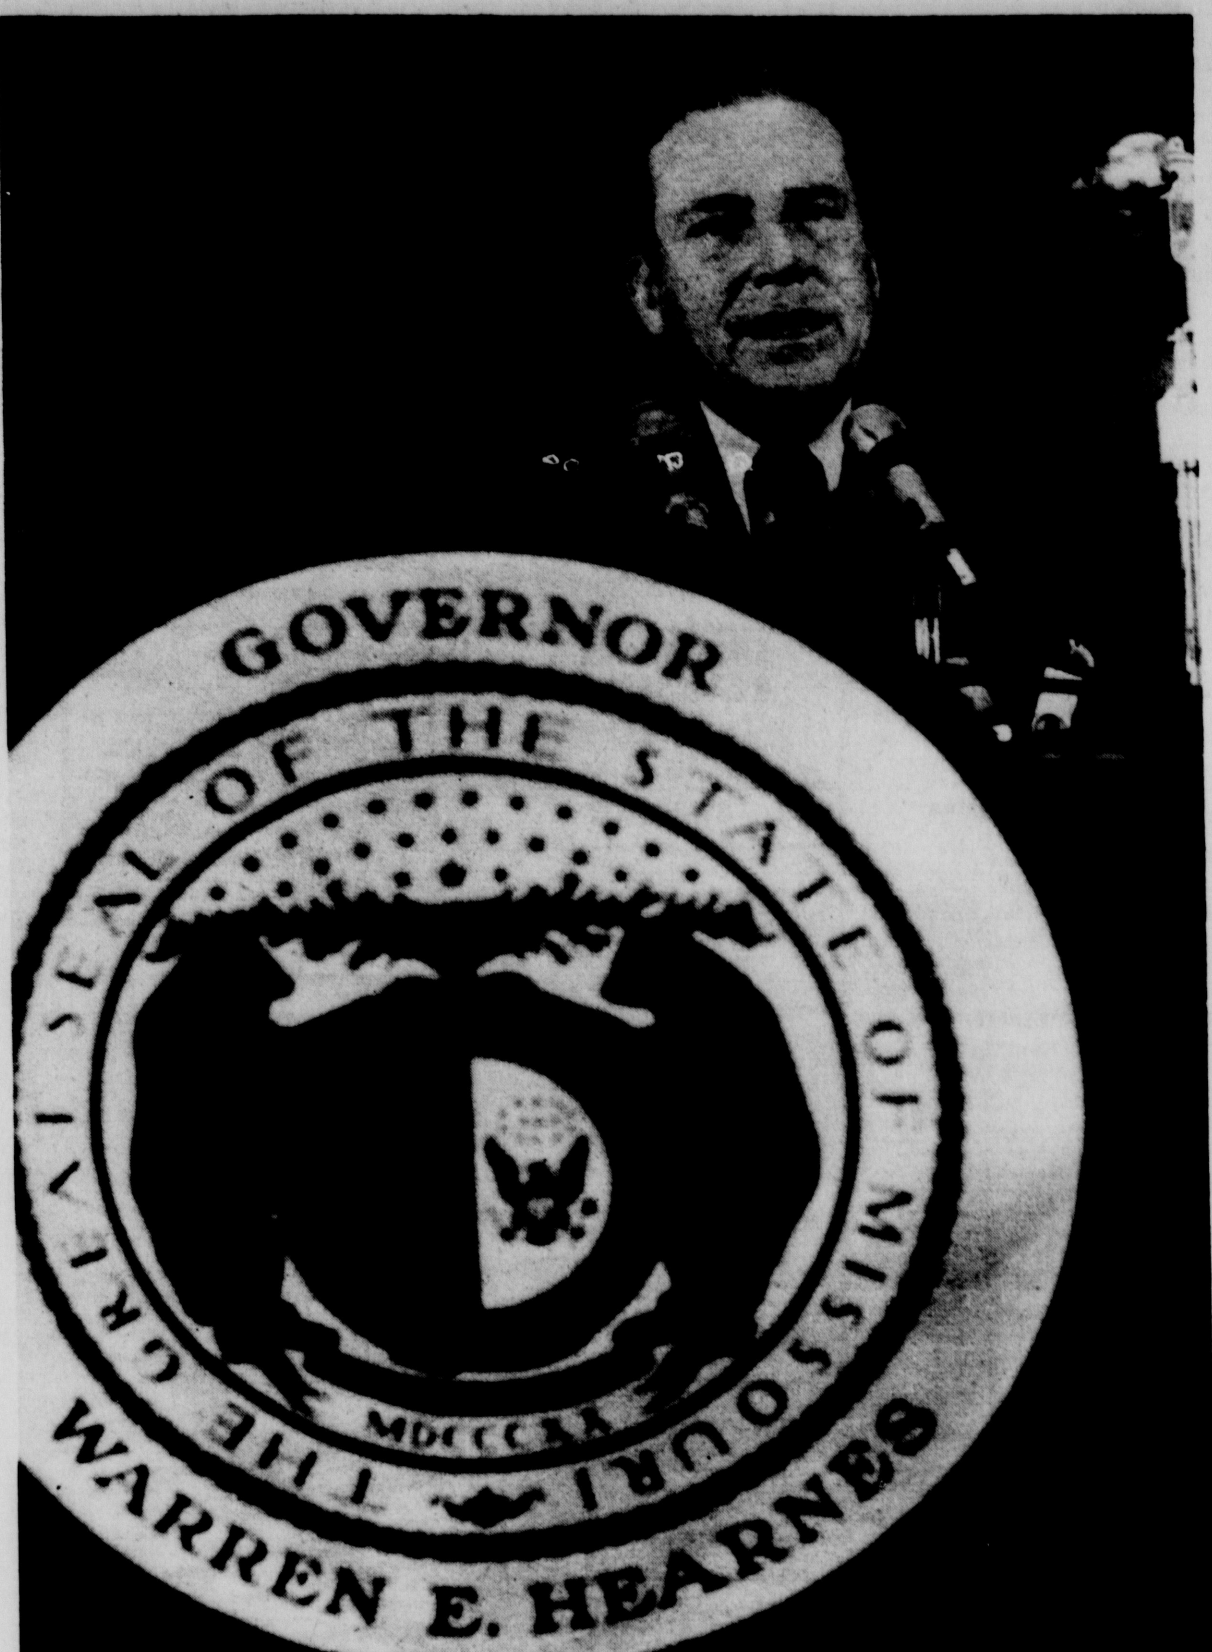

About every two years, somebody produces an hour featuring water-skiing and precision motorboat drills from a Florida tourist attraction. For a time, two or three specials a year came from an outside aquarium conveniently a short distance south of Los Angeles.

"Aquadace at Acapulco" on CBS Wednesday seems to be the first foreign-made water show. Despite the tropical Mexican backgrounds and all sorts of tricky diving from those familiar high cliffs, it was all pretty familiar stuff.

Ed McMahon, who often moonlights from Johnny Carson's show to appear in one-shot programs, was around exclaiming at the skills of American Olympic divers as they went into swans, jack-knives and half-gainers from high boards. He also was making like a comedian—not his forte—as he tried to drink swimming pool water through a straw.

Tony Randall was the official host and introduced the divers, swimmers and stuntmen. But when he had his short monologue, he delivered a mock lecture on the importance of water which included such memorable witticisms as "without water, 'Mutiny on the Bounty' would have been made on a bus." And that, unfortunately, was the general level of the humor. The comedy team of Stiller and Meara did not even fare that well.

At the conclusion of the first television season in which syndicated programs proliferated to fill time returned to local stations for broadcasting, the three most popular programs were "The Lawrence Welk Show" seen on more than 170 stations; "Wild Kingdom," on only a few less, and "Hee Haw," on more than 160. All three were tossed by their networks, respectively ABC, NBC and CBS, when the Federal Communications Commission cut prime network broadcasting time from 3½ to 3 hours nightly.

Suggests Airport Vote

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes Wednesday called on the General Assembly to pass legislation creating an election in which Missourians could decide where they want the proposed Missouri-St. Louis metropolitan airport located. (UPI)

Airport Vote Is Sought

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gov. Warren E. Hearnes wants St. Louis area residents to vote on where a new airport should be built, Missouri or Illinois.

He asked the legislature Wednesday to provide for an election because the wishes of the residents "should be of paramount importance."

Hearnes and other state officials have opposed plans of St. Louis Mayor A. J. Cervantes to enter into an agreement with the state of Illinois to build and operate an airport in the Illinois portion of the metropolitan area.

Hearnes said the matter should be put to a vote for residents of St. Louis, St. Louis County, and St. Charles, Jefferson and Franklin counties. He said the state of Illinois has the responsibility of putting the question to a vote for Illinois residents who live near St. Louis. He said the results should be made part of Illinois' federal application for a new airport.

Hearnes announcement, which came as a surprise, was made in St. Louis where he had come to sign a legislature-approved pay bill for St. Louis police. Cervantes was out of town and could not be reached for comment.

But the office of Illinois Gov. Richard Ogilvie issued a negative response, saying there would be no push for residents of the Columbia-Waterloo area in Illinois to vote on the airport proposal.

Hearnes was asked what would happen if residents of both states voted for the airport to be located in their own state. He said: "Then it would be up to Washington, but they would know the feelings of persons affected by it, which should be of major importance on where they put the airport."

Recently, Transportation Secretary John Volpe said in St. Louis civic leaders could not agree on an airport site within 60 days, then the government would begin reviewing the Illinois airport application.

In connection with Hearnes' proposal, a bill was introduced in the Missouri House Wednesday, calling for a special election on the airport issue either for next November or at an earlier date set by the governor.

Asked if his move was a delaying tactic, Hearnes did not answer directly. He said it was a chance to let Washington know the wishes of the people and if they say they want the airport in Illinois, "that's good enough for me. I'll stop fighting to get the airport for Missouri."

Association Revealed Between Pot and Drugs

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A survey of drug use patterns among some 6,000 junior and senior high school students shows "there is some degree of association between marijuana use and use of other drugs," the Greater Kansas City Drug Information Center said today.

But, it added, "we cannot argue that marijuana leads to the use of these other drugs."

The study, conducted in three school districts north of the Missouri River, said: "Reporting on the use of four other drugs in relationship to marijuana, we find that of those students using glue (for sniffing) only 5 per cent had not used marijuana; only 4 per cent of the LSD users had not used marijuana; 2 per cent of the (stimulant) 'speed' users had not used marijuana and 1 per cent of the heroin users had not used marijuana."

"In other words, with all types of drug use, at least 90 per cent of the users had used marijuana and 80 per cent indicated that, other than tobacco and alcohol, marijuana was their first drug of choice."

The survey, funded through the U.S. Office of Education and the J.C. Nichols Foundation of Kansas City, was virtually evenly divided between male and female responses. Sixty-two per cent of the youths were between 14 and 17—61 per cent in junior high and 39 per cent in senior high.

A summary indicated 37 per cent of the youths had used alcohol at least once and 32 per cent had tried tobacco at least once—indications, the conclusion said, that, "as in other areas of the country," these two drugs are still the top two choices.

Other percentages, with at least one experience, were nearly 20 per cent, marijuana; 11 per cent, LSD; 10 per cent, tranquilizers and glue; 6 per cent, speed and 3 per cent, heroin.

But marijuana was not seen to be readily available. Of those who indicated marijuana use, the study said, "only 25 per cent indicated the plant was available to them."

The survey said, "We found that of the students who had had some type of drug education program, 75 per cent had not used drugs, while of those who had not been exposed to drug education, only 64 per cent had not used drugs."

Dr. Robert F. Hickey, director of the center, said the survey is significant "due to the impact of House Bill 69 which passed the Missouri Legislature in 1971 making drug education compulsory in all Missouri schools from kindergarten through grade 12."

HISTORIC OAK FALLS

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fierce snowstorm finally toppled historic Bettin Oak.

Bettin Oak, a landmark at Morristown National Historic Park, New Jersey, had been ravaged by age and disease when it fell under the assault of high winds.

Reinforced with cables and patched with concrete, the magnificent black oak soared 125 feet over Jockey Hollow. Because the patches obscured many annual rings, the tree's reported age of 230 years is only a close estimate.

The great tree already dominated the landscape when Gen. George Washington and his troops wintered at Morristown in 1777 and again in 1779-80. Even then the tough oak was so large that soldiers desperate for firewood spared it in favor of easier-to-cut smaller trees.

The tree was named after Captain Adam Bettin.

Lawmaker Spending Sloppy

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The state legislature, which controls the state's purse strings, doesn't do a very good job staying within its own budget, state auditor Christopher "Kit" Bond charged Wednesday.

Bond, in a completed audit of the General Assembly, said he found money management on the part of the money managers "lax and ineffective."

He said the legislature has hired more help than allowed by law, the House spent more than it appropriated for its contingency funds, senators are paid 16 cents a mile for air travel with no authority for this rate, and no records are kept on the time legislative staff members spend on the job.

The House, Bond said, spent $67,316 above its contingency fund limit, and pointed to $75,000 spent on office furniture and office remodeling expenses.

There is no check to determine whether a legislator is entitled to travel expenses to and from his home district twice a month, Bond said.

Bond said his audit found 130 House employees — five more than permitted — and 10 employees of the Legislative Research Committee — six more than allowed.

The audit covered the 1970 and 1971 fiscal years.

To Appeal Burglary Decision

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — Carl E. Summers, 44-year-old former North Kansas City policeman, convicted by a Clay County circuit court of burglary and stealing has notified Judge Stephen R. Pratt he will appeal the decision.

The jury that found Summers guilty took more than an hour Wednesday to deliberate and recommend a 15-year prison sentence, the maximum under state law.

Judge Pratt, who may lower but not increase the recommended sentence, gave Summers 30 days to file an appeal. Summers remained free on continuation of a $20,000 property bond. Three other burglary charges are pending against him.

Summers was charged with breaking into a carpeting warehouse in North Kansas City in September of 1970 and stealing rolls of carpeting.

During the three-day trial, Leo K. Rhoden, another former North Kansas City policeman, testified that he, Summers, Glen D. Hartley, another former officer, and Louis J. Verderber, a reserve officer, participated in the burglary.

Rhoden said he had personally participated in 500 burglaries at 200 businesses and warehouses during his 17 years on the force. He said a burglary ring was allegedly led by Capt. Carl Koonce, former chief of operations in the department.

Summers was the first of 17 persons to be tried for allegedly participating in the burglary ring.
